The Right Periphery in L2 Chinese Shanshan Yan, 2022-12-29 The Right Periphery in L2 Chinese is among the first books to try to incorporate both advanced linguistic and acquisition perspectives to show how eight sentence final particles are represented in English speaking learners L2 Chinese This book will inform researchers of the general construction of the right periphery in L2 grammars Drawing on up to date theoretical frameworks and findings from advanced empirical studies it sketches the general picture of the periphery that these particles occupy in English Chinese interlanguages Readers will grasp the problems and difficulties and particularly the ambiguities which learners of Chinese must grapple with in the process of acquiring sentence final particles Possible influential factors underlying the acquisition process are explicitly discussed as well Researchers will also find insights in the advanced methodologies and statistics that are used to study Chinese The book will be illuminating for researchers interested in SLA linguists of generative theories and educators teaching Chinese as a second foreign language

Memorization and the Compound-Phrase Distinction Marcel Schlechtweg, 2018-01-09 Over the last decades it has been hotly debated whether and how compounds i e word formations and phrases differ from each other The book discusses this issue by investigating compounds and phrases from a structural semantic functional and crucially cognitive perspective The analysis focuses on compounds and phrases that are composed of either an adjective and a noun or two nouns in German French and English Having distinguished compounds from phrases on structural and semantic functional grounds the author claims that compounds are by their nature more appropriate to be stored in the mental lexicon than phrases and supports his argument with empirical evidence from new psycholinguistic studies In sum the book maintains the separation between compounds and phrases and reflects upon its cognitive consequences □□□□ ,2014-04 The Study of Bilingual Language Processing Nan Jiang,2023-03-15 This book offers a detailed account of the issues models and outcomes of research into the cognition of bilingualism The first chapter identifies the most important characteristics of this research and its historical developments before the main part of the book explores studies of four bilingual processing topics The first of these is lexico semantic representation and organization in bilinguals which deals with how words and meanings are represented and connected in the bilingual mind The second cross language priming explores the bilingual lexicon by examining how exposure to words in one language may affect word recognition in another and leads to the discovery of an asymmetry in translation priming The third topic is selective lexical access in bilinguals which examines whether bilinguals can selectively activate one language while suppressing the other while the fourth is code switching focussing on language control and language regulation mechanisms in bilinguals The book concludes with a chapter that reviews research in three areas beyond lexical processing autobiographical memory the representation and interaction of syntactic knowledge and the consequences of bilingualism The volume demonstrates the theoretical significance and real world practical implications of research into bilingual language processing and will be a valuable resource for seminars and courses from advanced undergraduate level upwards
