Christian Faith, Justice, and a Politics of Mercy James E. Gilman, 2014-04-10 Christian Faith Justice and a Politics of Mercy The Benevolent Community assumes that the most profound moral conflict today is between two virtues justice and mercy Gilman argues that the two are organically linked through the common experience of compassion In an unjust world justice cannot establish itself but requires in public as well as private life projects of merciful benevolence Mercy alone has the power to subvert patterns of injustice and mercy and projects of benevolence are tailored to establish and sustain patterns of justice especially fair economic outcomes To show this against Rawls Difference Principle Gilman argues for a Distribution Principle which states that social and economic inequalities should be addressed by policies that directly and primarily benefit the least advantaged members of society while at the same time minimizing burdens and or maximizing benefits for the most advantaged Along the way he shows how in the United States benevolence as a public virtue was disestablished along with religion how it might and should be re established without re establishing religion and how the Christian tradition provides resources for evolving morally from a liberal procedural practice of justice to one that embraces egalitarian economic justice as well Finally he demonstrates how in the global community today Christianity and other traditions can and should make benevolent community a reality

Sin Boldly! Ted Peters, Martin E. Marty, 2015 Can faith as trusting God make a difference Absolutely by relieving our anxiety over self justification and the need to scapegoat others When we discover we don't justify ourselves because God has justified us we become free What Sin Boldly! points to is the presence of the crucified and living Christ in the human soul placed there by the Holy Spirit And this becomes transformative Sin Boldly! provides an experiential analysis of the contrast between self justification and justification by God Those among us with fragile souls are anxious and we shore up our anxiety with walls of self justification that victimize those whom we scapegoat Those among us with broken souls have lost the very moral universe that makes any kind of justification possible and this usually leads to anomie and suicide We must pose the question how can the gospel of grace provide transformation for both fragile and broken souls After an exposition of the Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification this book proposes the following answer trusting in the God of grace relieves anxiety and provides a divine vocation that transcends our moral universe with the promise of forgiveness renewal and resurrection

Hill, 2017-01-03 This book is about learning how to live the good life Part biography and part philosophical inquiry it is a fresh original interpretation of the intellectual world of the largely forgotten eighteenth century professor Adam Ferguson Although less well known today than his famous Scottish contemporaries Adam Smith and David Hume Ferguson was considered their equal in the 18th century The book shows how Ferguson who grew up speaking Gaelic and English and spent a decade ministering to a Highlander regiment developed a distinctive cross cultural approach to moral philosophy that is relevant for doing comparative ethics in today's global village The premise is that life in the twenty first century is plagued by a moral disorientation that has affinities with the materialism privatization social fragmentation and spiritual crises that were emerging in 18th century urban Scotland Like his peers in medical science Ferguson pursued what was then known as moral science with a particular concern to diagnose and treat moral dis-ease The book contends that his moral philosophy lectures became strikingly modern experiments in recovering moral moorings disclosing epitomes of moral dynamics investigating the use of moral terms in ordinary language and crafting moral principles such as probity which preserved classical moral virtues but also incorporated the practical wisdom of peoples of the mountains Although focused on re-discovering Ferguson as a full blown ethicist before his time the book is also intended as a primer for the reader's own quest for living a life which is emblematic of ethical integrity The primary audience for this book is philosophers historians religious studies scholars who specialize in ethics eighteenth century English literature scholars and social scientists anthropologists sociologists and political scientists who focus on the eighteenth century Mercy Hans Schaeffer, Gerard den Hertog, Stefan Paas, 2018 Mercy is an important concept in the Christian moral tradition It is one of the most prominent divine attributes and is embodied in Jesus Christ This volume investigates the concept of mercy from a Protestant point of view with respect to its consequences for an increasingly non-Christian society Starting from its biblical origins a group of international authors explicates the intrinsically messianic logic of divine mercy for its potential in current theological ethics practical ecclesiology systematic and public theology The Shield of faith, 1881 Intellectual, Humanist and Religious Commitment Peter Forrest, 2019-07-25 This book offers a rigorous analysis of why commitment matters and the challenges it presents to a range of believers Peter Forrest treats commitment as a response to lost innocence He considers the intellectual consequences of this by demonstrating why for example we should not believe in angels He then explores why humans are attached to reason and to humanism recognising the different commitments made by theist and non-theist humanists Finally he analyses religious faith specifically fideism defining it by way of contrast to Descartes Pascal and

William James as well as contemporary philosophers including John Schellenberg and Lara Buchak Of particular interest to scholars working on the philosophy of religion the book makes the case both for and against committing to God recognising that God's divine character sets up an emotional rather than an intellectual barrier to commitment to worship
