Cocker, 2012-07-03 Christianity And Greek Philosophy OR THE RELATION BETWEEN SPONTANEOUS AND REFLECTIVE THOUGHT IN GREECE AND THE POSITIVE TEACHING OF CHRIST AND HIS APOSTLES By B F Cocker ZHINGOORA BOOKS PREFACE In preparing the present volume the writer has been actuated by a conscientious desire to deepen and vivify our faith in the Christian system of truth by showing that it does not rest solely on a special class of facts but upon all the facts of nature and humanity that its authority does not repose alone on the peculiar and supernatural events which transpired in Palestine but also on the still broader foundations of the ideas and laws of the reason and the common wants and instinctive yearnings of the human heart It is his conviction that the course and constitution of nature the whole current of history and the entire development of human thought in the ages anterior to the advent of the Redeemer centre in and can only be interpreted by the purpose of redemption The central and unifying thought of this volume is that the necessary ideas and laws of the reason and the native instincts of the human heart originally implanted by God are the primal and germinal forces of history and that these have been developed under conditions which were first ordained and have been continually supervised by the providence of God God is the Father of humanity and he is also the Guide and Educator of our race As the offspring of God humanity is not a bare indeterminate potentiality but a living energy an active reason having definite qualities and inheriting fundamental principles and necessary ideas which constitute it the image and likeness of God And though it has suffered a moral lapse and in the exercise of its freedom has become alienated from the life of God yet God has never abandoned the human race He still magnifies man and sets his heart upon him He visits him every morning and tries him every moment The inspiration of the Almighty still gives him understanding The illumination of the Divine Logos still teacheth man knowledge The Spirit of God still comes near to and touches with strong emotion every human heart CONTENTS CHAPTER I ATHENS AND THE MEN OF ATHENS CHAPTER II THE PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION CHAPTER III THE RELIGION OF THE ATHENIANS CHAPTER IV THE RELIGION OF THE ATHENIANS ITS MYTHOLOGICAL AND SYMBOLICAL ASPECTS CHAPTER V THE UNKNOWN GOD CHAPTER VI THE UNKNOWN GOD continued IS GOD COGNIZABLE BY REASON CHAPTER VII THE UNKNOWN GOD continued IS GOD COGNIZABLE BY REASON continued CHAPTER VIII THE PHILOSOPHERS OF ATHENS PRE SOCRATIC SCHOOL Sensational THALES ANAXIMENES HERACLITUS ANAXIMANDER LEOCIPPUS DEMOCRITUS x CHAPTER IX THE PHILOSOPHERS OF ATHENS continued PRE SOCRATIC SCHOOL continued Idealist Pythagoras Xenophanes Parmenides Zeno Natural Realist Anaxagoras THE

insightful book brings profound new insights to the Trinitarian doctrines of orthodox Christianity With clear and precise documentation the book shows how these doctrines migrated into early Christianity from Greek philosophy The various aspects of Trinitarian belief are isolated linked to their Greek sources and carefully analyzed to show they differ radically from biblical teaching The Writings of early Church Fathers portrayed in their historical context show that during the second century theological concepts taught in Platonism were adopted as Christianity struggled to end Roman persecution Emperor Marcus Aurelius a famous Stoic philosopher was putting Christians to death because their belief did not conform to the Hellenized religion of the day The book shows that the early church fathers sought to save their people's lives by redefining the Christian God in Greek terms Their efforts brought metaphysics to Christianity and ushered in concepts like the Trinity After presenting the historical setting in which these philosophical errors were embraced as Christian doctrine the book compares orthodox Christian theology today called classical theism to biblical teachings The book identifies how Greek philosophy has influenced major attributes of God taught in classical theism The book constitutes a major challenge to those who accept the tenants of classical theism but do not know the many aspects of their doctrine that are based on Greek philosophy Christianity and Greek Philosophy B. Philosophy Or the Relation Between Spontaneous and Reflective Thought in Greece and the Positive Teaching of Christ and His Apostles In preparing the present volume the writer has been actuated by a conscientious desire to deepen and vivify our faith in the Christian system of truth by showing that it does not rest solely on a special class of facts but upon all the facts of nature and humanity that its authority does not repose alone on the peculiar and supernatural events which transpired in Palestine but also on the still broader foundations of the ideas and laws of the reason and the common wants and instinctive yearnings of the human heart It is his conviction that the course and constitution of nature the whole current of history and the entire development of human thought in the ages anterior to the advent of the Redeemer centre in and can only be interpreted by the purpose of redemption The method hitherto most prevalent of treating the history of human thought as a series of isolated disconnected and lawless movements without unity and purpose and the practice of denouncing the religions and philosophies of the ancient world as inventions of satanic mischief or as the capricious and wicked efforts of humanity to relegate itself from the bonds of allegiance to the One Supreme Lord and Lawgiver have in his judgment been
