Christian Theological Tradition The:

The Christian Theological Tradition Catherine Cory, 2019 The fourth edition of The Christian Theological Tradition provides students with essential theological knowledge of key persons and events of the Bible and the Christian faith and of Christianity's multifaceted encounter with Western culture. Historically arranged, the textbook addresses major theological themes such as revelation, God, Jesus, Christ, creation, salvation, and the church. The textbook deals with the entire Christian tradition from an orientation that is both Catholic and ecumenical, with the fourth edition including expanded coverage of modern Protestant Christianity. The Christian Theological Tradition has been thoroughly revised and updated with nine new or rewritten chapters, including a new section on the reception of the Second Vatican Council, including the pontificate of Pope Francis; a new treatment of contemporary developments in liberation and environmental theology; a new examination of the relationship between science and Christianity; an entirely rewritten treatment of Islam that focuses on the ways in which the Christian tradition has historically understood and responded to Islam; a new discussion of the New Atheism with theological responses to this influential movement. With the assistance of images and maps, key words, and recommended reading, this textbook outlines the methods for Christian theology and demonstrates the relevance of the Christian theological tradition for our contemporary world. This is an ideal resource for students of Theology, Biblical Studies, or Religious Studies, and anyone wanting an accessible and comprehensive introduction to the Christian Theological tradition.

Powell, 2016-01-01 The Impassioned Life argues that theology's task today is to rethink the nature of the emotions and their relation to human reason Such rethinking is necessary because the Christian tradition feels ambivalently about the emotions Armed with a commitment to body soul dualism many writers have equated the image of God with rationality and wondered whether emotion is an essential feature of human nature however the tradition has also affirmed the value of emotions such as love and compassion and has sometimes asserted the value of so called negative emotions such as anger The question then is whether the tradition's pastoral insight into the importance of moderation and control of the emotions requires us to think dualistically about soul identified with reason and body the seat of emotions To answer this question The Impassioned Life explores the vital resources of the Christian theological tradition and also of contemporary scientific and psychological research in order to achieve a more adequate theological understanding of the emotions and reason At heart it offers a holistic integrated vision of the Christian life lived passionately in its full range of human feeling as life in the Spirit
