

Teacher Guide: Dichotomous Keys

Learning Objectives

Students will ...

- Use five different dichotomous keys to identify a variety of organisms.
- Explain how dichotomous keys are used to identify organisms.
- Construct a dichotomous key that can be used to identify a group of organisms.

Vocabulary

dichotomous key, genus, organism, scientific name, species, trait

Lesson Overview

Scientists estimate there are about 9 million different species in the world. So, as you can imagine, it is impossible for any one person to recognize every species they come across. As a result, scientists have developed several different tools that can be used during field investigations to identify unknown organisms. One common tool is a dichotomous key. The Dichotomous Keys Gizmo™ allows students to practice observing unfamiliar organisms and using dichotomous keys to identify them.

The Student Exploration sheet contains three activities:

- Activity A – Students learn how to use a dichotomous key.
- Activity B – Students use dichotomous keys to identify buttercups, venomous snakes, evergreens, and cartilaginous fish.
- Activity C – Students design their own dichotomous keys to identify sets of organisms.

Suggested Lesson Sequence

1. Pre-Gizmo activities

(🕒 15 – 30 minutes)

Tell students you are going to play a game of twenty questions. Place a common classroom object, such as a pencil, stapler, or book, in an opaque box. Tell students they can ask you up to 20 yes/no questions in an attempt to identify the object.

After playing the game and revealing the object, discuss with students how they used their questions to help identify the object. Help students recognize that they used traits the object potentially had to narrow down the possibilities. This is very similar to how dichotomous keys use sets of yes/no questions or statements to identify an organism.

In addition to the above activity, you may want to present students with several sets of photos of two different, but similar, species. For each set of photos, have students compare and contrast the organisms pictured. Discuss how specific traits can be used to distinguish each species.
