Creation Of The Sacred Creation Of The Sacred:

A Compendium of Ancient and Modern History Martin Joseph Kerney, 1851 The Collected Works of Eric Voegelin, Volume 26, History of Political Ideas, Volume VIII, Crisis and the Apocalypse of Man Eric Voegelin, 1999-07 On Deep History and the Brain Daniel Lord Smail, 2007-11-15

When does history begin? What characterizes it? This brilliant and beautifully written book dissolves the logic of a beginning based on writing, civilization, or historical consciousness and offers a model for a history that escapes the continuing grip of the Judeo-Christian time frame. Daniel Lord Smail argues that in the wake of the Decade of the Brain and the best-selling historical work of scientists like Jared Diamond, the time has come for fundamentally new ways of thinking about our past. He shows how recent work in evolution and paleohistory makes it possible to join the deep past with the recent past and abandon once and for all the idea of prehistory. Making an enormous literature accessible to the general reader, he lays out a bold new case for bringing neuroscience and neurobiology into the realm of history.

Semiotic Theory and Sacramentality in Hugh of Saint Victor Ruben Angelici, 2019-08-01

This book offers Hugh of Saint Victor's early scholastic thoughts on sacrament in order to re-discover the pre-modern theological understanding of ontological signification. The Christian understanding of sacrament through the category of signs results in a theology that inherently shares in the philosophical notion of semiotics. Yet through the advent of post-structuralism, current sign theory is effectively shaped by post-Kantian ontological foundations. This can lead to misinterpretations of the sacramental theology that predates this intellectual turn. The book works within a context of Christological realist mysticism. Such an approach allows mutually informing debates in semiotic development and studies on sacramental theology to sit side by side. In addition, as a work of ressourcement influenced by the methodology and concerns of the historical French Ressourcement, this study seeks to continue an engagement with some of the most promising sacramental positions that have emerged throughout twentieth-century theology, particularly with the revival of interest in Victorine theology. By providing an examination of sacramentality and theories of signification in the early scholastic theology of Hugh of Saint Victor, this book gives fresh impetus to the theology surrounding sacrament. As such, it will be of great interest to scholars of mysticism, theologians of sacrament, philosophical theologians, and philosophers of religion.

Unbinding the Perpetual Soul Jeffrey C. Tucker, 2018-01-24

What if our actual lives aren't written like a simple story? Nor like a book that flows neatly and sequentially from chapter to chapter via a rigidly linear plot? But written instead through a series of creative interludes or moments? Further still, what if our lives shouldn't simply happen to us? But rather be lived through our affirmative acts of seeking life? As part of an ongoing active quest, a human quest for deeply spiritual lives of continuously becoming. In Unbinding the Perpetual Soul, Jeffrey C. Tucker writes via a series of essays. These diverse, accessible, engaging, creative, and provocative essays are organized around our human quests for being. For to be entails continuous and challenging but highly rewarding quests for things such as identity, wellbeing, belonging, truths, things sacred, healing, transcendence, and meaning.

Questing is not an easy journey to be sure But it s life changing It s exhilarating It s exciting and rewarding And while far from certain in its destination one thing is for sure you ll be a better healthier and far more actualized person in the process You ll be more spiritually whole and grounded So join in this quest if you will An inclusive soulful unbinding and life giving one at that

Bible history, tr. by A. Melville Johann Heinrich Kurtz, 1867 The Two Horizons Anthony C. Thiselton, 1980 The History of England Thomas Keightley, 1841 Transitions and Transformations in the History of Religions Joseph Mitsuo Kitagawa, Frank E. Reynolds, Theodore M. Ludwig, 1980-01-01 Religion and the Rise of History Leonard S. Smith, 2009-04-01

As a historical inquiry and synthesis this intellectual history is the first study to apply the ideal type or model building methodology of Otto Hintze 1861 1940 to Western historical thought or to what R G Collingwood called The Idea of History for it contains succinct and useful models for seeing and teaching classical Christian and modern professional historiography Religion and the Rise of History is also the first work to suggest that in addition to his well known paradoxical simul and or at the same time way of thinking and viewing life Martin Luther also held to a way that was deeply incarnational dynamic and or in with and under This dual vision and a Lutheran ethos strongly influenced Leibniz Hamann and Herder and was therefore a matter of considerable significance for the rise of a distinctly modern form of historical consciousness commonly called historicism in Protestant Germany Smith s essay suggests a new time period for the formative age of modern German thought culture and education The Cultural Revolution in Germany This age began in the early 1760s and culminated in 1810 with the founding of the University of Berlin the first fully modern and modernizing university This university first became the recognized center for the study of history however through the work of Leopold von Ranke 1795 1886 Here the story shows how a young Ranke derived his individualizing way of thinking and viewing life mainly from Luther how his life work is the best example in Western literature of the rise of history from a calling to a profession and how the three way discussion between Troeltsch Meinecke and Hintze concerning the nature of modern historical thought was of central importance for the reorientation of Western social historical thought in the twentieth century
