Traversals Stuart Moulthrop, Dene Grigar, 2017-03-31 An exercise in reclaiming electronic literary works on inaccessible platforms examining four works as both artifacts and operations Many pioneering works of electronic literature are now largely inaccessible because of changes in hardware software and platforms The virtual disappearance of these works created on floppy disks in Apple's defunct HyperCard and on other early systems and platforms not only puts important electronic literary work out of reach but also signals the fragility of most works of culture in the digital age In response Dene Grigar and Stuart Moulthrop have been working to document and preserve electronic literature work that has culminated in the Pathfinders project and its series of Traversals video and audio recordings of demonstrations performed on historically appropriate platforms with participation and commentary by the authors of the works In Traversals Moulthrop and Grigar mine this material to examine four influential early works Judy Malloy's Uncle Roger 1986 John McDaid's Uncle Buddy's Phantom Funhouse 1993 Shelley Jackson's Patchwork Girl 1995 and Bill Bly's We Descend 1997 offering deep readings that consider the works as both literary artifacts and computational constructs For each work Moulthrop and Grigar explore the interplay between the text's material circumstances and the patterns of meaning it engages and creates paying attention both to specificities of media and purposes of expression
