Handbook of Adolescent Development Sandy Jackson, Luc Goossens, 2020-01-29 Handbook of Adolescent Development fills a gap in the literature on adolescent development and behaviour all of the authors of the various chapters were invited to include as many findings on European adolescents as possible Through this specific emphasis the handbook provides a complement to other reviews of the literature that are mostly based on North American samples The contributors are all eminent researchers in the field and the individual chapters cover their specific areas of expertise Theories of adolescence along with emotional physical and cognitive issues are explored Topics covered include families peer relations school and leisure time as well as problem areas such as depression drug consumption and delinquency Handbook of Adolescent Development also incorporates a comprehensive review of the literature in the area and considers avenues for future research This multidisciplinary text will be of interest to those studying and researching in the fields of developmental psychology sociology demography epidemiology and criminology EBOOK: Masculinities in Mathematics Heather Mendick, 2006-06-16 The book speaks to me as one of those texts that will become seminal in mathematics education It is original refreshing and despite a complicated plot points to some ways forward It is engagingly written if at times perhaps a little bit no nonsense in tone It will be of interest to teachers and teacher educators as well as providing a theoretical stance that should inform future research Review from BERJ 2007 The study of mathematics together with other gendered subjects such as science and engineering usually attracts more male than female pupils particularly at more advanced levels In this book Heather Mendick explores this phenomenon addressing the important question of why more boys than girls choose to study mathematics She combines new research with an original theoretical approach to argue that doing mathematics is doing masculinity The book illuminates what studying mathematics means for both students and teachers and offers a broad range of insights into students views and practices In addition to the words of young people learning mathematics the masculinity of mathematics is explored through historical material and cinematic representations Heather Mendick discusses the ways in which the alignment of mathematics with masculinity creates tensions for girls and women doing the subject These tensions are sensitively explored through interviews with young men and women to show how doing mathematics fits or conflicts with their gender identities Finally the book explores the implications for teachers including ways to promote gender equity in mathematics education This is key reading for students on courses in gender and education mathematics education gender and curriculum and social justice Proceedings of the Eighteenth Annual Conference of the Cognitive Science Society Garrison W. Cottrell, 2019-02-21 This volume features the complete text of all regular papers posters and summaries of symposia presented at the 18th annual meeting of the Cognitive Science Society Papers have been loosely grouped by topic and an author index is provided in the back In hopes of facilitating searches of this work an electronic index on the Internet s World Wide Web is provided Titles authors and summaries of all the papers published here have been placed in an online database which may be freely searched by anyone You can reach the Web site at <http://www.cse.ucsd.edu/events/cogsci96/proceedings> You may view the table of contents for this volume on the LEA Web site at <http://www.erlbaum.com>

Proceedings of the IFIP TC 11 23rd International Information Security Conference Sushil Jajodia, Pierangela Samarati, Stelvio Cimato, 2008-07-17 These proceedings contain the papers selected for presentation at the 23rd International Information Security Conference SEC 2008 co located with IFIP World Computer Congress WCC 2008 September 8 10 2008 in Milan Italy In sponse to the call for papers 143 papers were submitted to the conference All pers were evaluated on the basis of their signi cance novelty and technical quality and reviewed by at least three members of the program committee Reviewing was blind meaning that the authors were not told which committee members reviewed which papers The program committee meeting was held electronically holding tensive discussion over a period of three weeks Of the papers submitted 42 full papers and 11 short papers were selected for presentation at the conference. A conference like this just does not happen; it depends on the volunteer efforts of a host of individuals. There is a long list of people who volunteered their time and energy to put together the conference and who deserve acknowledgment. We thank all members of the program committee and the external reviewers for their hard work in the paper evaluation. Due to the large number of submissions, program committee members were required to complete their reviews in a short time frame. We are especially thankful to them for the commitment they showed with their active participation in the electronic discussion.

SAGE Visual Methods Jason Hughes, 2012-07-23

In contemporary Western societies, the visual domain has come to assume a hitherto unprecedented cultural centrality. Daily life is replete with a potentially endless stream of images and other visual messages from the electronic and paper-based billboards of the street to the TV and Internet feeds of the home. The visual has become imbued with a symbolic potency, a signifying power that seemingly eclipses that of all other sensory data. The central aim of this four-volume collection is to explore key approaches to visual research methods and to consider some of the core principles, issues, debates, and controversies surrounding the use of visual techniques in relation to three key enterprises: 1) documentation and representation, 2) interpretation and classification, and 3) elicitation and collaboration. Volume One: Principles, Issues, Debates, and Controversies in Visual Research serves as a theoretical backdrop to the field as a whole. It introduces core epistemological, ethical, and methodological debates that effectively cut across the four-volume collection as a whole. Volume Two: Documentation and Representation illustrates approaches to visual documentation and representation from classical documentaries to contemporary state-of-the-art modes of visual anthropology and ethnography. Volume Three: Interpretation and Classification examines core debates surrounding and approaches to visual analysis. Volume Four: Elicitation and Collaboration explores participative approaches to visual inquiry.
