

The background of the cover is a detailed, futuristic cityscape at sunset or sunrise. The sky is a mix of orange, yellow, and blue. Tall, dark skyscrapers are visible, some with glowing windows. In the foreground, a sleek, white, disc-shaped spacecraft with blue glowing lights on its underside is flying over the city. The overall tone is dramatic and high-tech.

mother's less than subtle reminders that he should be getting married and continuing the Vorpatri lineage. Fortunately his current duty is on the planet Komarr as staff officer to Admiral Desplains, far from both his cousin and his mother back on their homeworld of Barrayer. It's an easy assignment and nobody is shooting at him. What could go wrong? Plenty it turns out when Byerly Vorrutyer, an undercover agent for Imperial Security, shows up on his doorstep and asks him to make the acquaintance of a young woman recently arrived on Komarr who seems to be in danger. That Byerly is characteristically vague about the nature of the danger, not to mention the lady's name, should have been Ivan's first clue, but Ivan is no more able to turn aside from aiding a damsel in distress than he could resist trying to rescue a kitten from a tree. It is but a short step down the road of good intentions to the tangle of Ivan's life in trouble with the Komarran authorities, with his superiors, and with the lethal figures hunting the mysterious but lovely Tej and her exotic blue companion Rish, a tangle to test the lengths to which Ivan will go as an inspired protector. But though his predicament is complicated, at least Ivan doesn't have to worry about hassle from family. Or so he believes.
