Captured A Film And Video History Of The Lower East Side:

Captured Paul Bartlett, Urania Mylonas, 2005 Captured Paul Bartlett, Urania Mylonas, 2005 A History of Experimental Film and Video A.L. Rees, 2019-07-25 Avant garde film is almost indefinable It is in a constant state of change and redefinition In his highly acclaimed history of experimental film A L Rees tracks the movement of the film avant garde between the cinema and modern art with its postmodern coda But he also reconstitutes the film avant garde as an independent form of art practice with its own internal logic and aesthetic discourse In this revised and updated edition Rees introduces experimental film and video to new readers interested in the wider cinema as well as offering a guide to enthusiasts of avant garde film and new media arts Ranging from C zanne and Dada via Cocteau Brakhage and Le Grice to the new wave of British film and video artists from the 1990s to the present day this expansive study situates avant garde film between the cinema and the gallery with many links to sonic as well as visual arts The new edition includes a review of current scholarship in avant garde film history and includes updated reading and viewing lists It also features a new introduction and concluding chapter which assess the rise of video projection in the gallery since the millennium and describe new work by the latest generation of experimental film makers The new edition is richly illustrated with images of the art works discussed Screening Race in American Nontheatrical Film Allyson Nadia Field, Marsha Gordon, 2019-11-15 The contributors to Screening Race in American Nontheatrical Film examine the place and role of race in educational films home movies industry and government films anthropological films church films and other forms of noncommercial filmmaking throughout the twentieth century Films that Spill Marie Sophie Beckmann, 2025 Films That Spill takes up a previously understudied moment in 1980s underground culture in New York City called Cinema of Transgression offering both a microhistory of the intermingling art music performance and film scenes of the time and a glimpse into their afterlives Su Friedrich Barbara Mennel, 2023-09-05 Auteurism expanded With acclaimed films like Sink or Swim and The Odds of Recovery Su Friedrich's body of work stands at the forefront of avant garde and Queer cinema Barbara Mennel examines the career of an experimental auteur whose merger of technical innovation and political critique connects with both cinephiles and activists Friedrich's integration of cinematic experimentation with lesbian advocacy serves as a beginning rather than an end point of analysis With that in mind Mennel provides an essential overview of the filmmaker's oeuvre while highlighting the defining characteristics of her artistic and political signature She also situates Friedrich within the cultural political and historical contexts that both shape the films and are shaped by them Finally Mennel expands our notion of auteurism to include directors who engage in collaborative and creative processes rooted in communities New York Animation 1966-1999 Robby Gilbert, 2025-08-13 Focusing on a specific period in New York's rich animation history this book examines the unique styles movements personalities and projects that emerged in the city from 1966 to 1999 During this era New York became a hub of significant stylistic cultural and market transformations playing a crucial role in nurturing the rise of independent animation as well as the development of digital production platforms and methods. This shift ultimately led to the decline of cel and film techniques which had been the dominant means of animation production until that time. Nonetheless, it also provided independent artists with opportunities to influence the future direction of animation. A central theme of this work links the efforts in New York to today's creator-driven animation, illustrating a direct connection between New York independents and properties such as Sesame Street, MTV, Adult Swim, and The Simpsons.

The Music Documentary Benjamin Halligan, Robert Edgar, Kirsty Fairclough-Isaacs, 2013-06-26. The Music Documentary offers a wide range of approaches across key moments in the history of popular music in order to define and interrogate this prominent genre of film making. The writers in this volume argue persuasively that the music documentary must be considered as an essential cultural artefact in documenting stars and icons and musicians and their times, particularly for those figures whose fame was achieved posthumously. In this collection of fifteen essays, the reader will find comprehensive discussions of the history of music documentaries, insights in their production and promotion, close studies of documentaries relating to favourite bands or performers, and approaches to questions of music documentary and form from the celluloid to the digital age.

The (Moving) Pictures Generation V. Dika, 2012-03-14. Beginning in the late 1970s, a number of visual artists in downtown New York City returned to an exploration of the cinematic across mediums. Vera Dika considers their work within a greater cultural context and probes for a deeper understanding of the practice.

Abel Ferrara Nicole Brenez, 2006-12-20. Nicole Brenez argues for Abel Ferrara's place in a line of grand inventors who have blurred distinctions between industry and avant-garde film, including Orson Welles, Monte Hellman, and Nicholas Ray. Rather than merely reworking genre film, Brenez understands Ferrara's oeuvre as formulating new archetypes that depict the evil of the modern world. Focusing as much on the human figure as on elements of storytelling, she argues that films such as Bad Lieutenant express this evil through visionary characters struggling against the inadmissible behavior, morality images, and narratives.
