CIB Proceedings 2015: Going north for sustainability: Leveraging knowledge and innovation for sustainable construction and development Prof. Charles Egbu, 2015 This International Conference is about sustainability in its wider sense It is an important area of discourse as it pertains to how we work and how we lead our lives while considering the lives and workplaces of future generations The conference particularly sets out to explore some of the developments and challenges taking place in academia and industry in both the Northern and Southern hemispheres The conference is entitled Going north for sustainability The North signifies progress in technology education and other areas of human endeavour to many people Progress requires that people learn across continents and cultures Domestic Heating Design Guide, 2017-03

Building Services Design for Energy Efficient Buildings Paul Tymkow, Savvas Tassou, Maria Kolokotroni, Hussam Jouhara, 2020-07-12 The role and influence of building services engineers are undergoing rapid change and are pivotal to achieving low carbon buildings However textbooks in the field have tended to remain fairly traditional with a detailed focus on the technicalities of heating ventilation and air conditioning HVAC systems often with little wider context This book addresses that need by embracing a contemporary understanding of the urgent challenge to address climate change together with practical approaches to energy efficiency and carbon mitigation for mechanical and electrical systems in a concise manner The essential conceptual design issues for planning the principal building services systems that influence energy efficiency are examined in detail These are HVAC and electrical systems In addition the following issues are addressed background issues on climate change whole life performance and design collaboration generic strategies for energy efficient low carbon design health and wellbeing and post occupancy evaluation building ventilation air conditioning and HVAC system selection thermal energy generation and distribution systems low energy approaches for thermal control electrical systems data collection controls and monitoring building thermal load assessment building electric power load assessment space planning and design integration with other disciplines In order to deliver buildings that help mitigate climate change impacts a new perspective is required for building services engineers from the initial conceptual design and throughout the design collaboration with other disciplines This book provides a contemporary introduction and guide to this new approach for students and practitioners alike Domestic Heating Design Guide Chartered Institution of Building Services Engineers (London, UK), 2004 The Architecture of Natural Cooling Brian Ford, Rosa Schiano-Phan, Juan A. Vallejo, 2019-11-15 Overheating in buildings is commonplace This book describes how we can keep cool without conventional air conditioning improving comfort and productivity while reducing energy costs and carbon emissions It provides architects engineers and policy makers with a how to guide to the application of natural cooling in new and existing buildings It demonstrates through reference to numerous examples that natural cooling is viable in most climates around the world This completely revised and expanded second edition includes An overview of natural cooling past and present Guidance on the principles and strategies that can be adopted A review of the applicability of different strategies Explanation of simplified tools for performance assessment A review of components and controls A detailed evaluation of case studies from the USA Europe India and China This book is not just for the technical specialist as it also provides a general grounding in how to avoid or minimise air conditioning Importantly it demonstrates that understanding our environment rather than fighting it will help us to live sustainably in our rapidly warming world Sustainable Construction Processes Steve Goodhew, 2016-04-13 This book explores the concepts and practicalities that lead to sustainable construction It breaks new ground by providing the reader with the underlying principles of how to build sustainably and then assesses many of the tools required for the task From energy to materials and from procurement to operation all aspects play their part in turning a theoretically sustainable building project into a reality There are many guidelines for the designer on how to maximise the sustainability of buildings but this resource text supplements these by focusing on the construction and operational aspects of sustainable buildings as well as some of the more fundamental design related considerations Offers an excellent text for those learning to construct design and operate sustainable buildings Covers the drivers for sustainable construction definitions historical impacts climate change and global regional and individual responses enables the construction professional to achieve optimum solutions both in design process and the aftercare of buildings evaluates the effectiveness of different renewable technologies and provides guidance on the practicalities of their use Alerts the reader to future trends in this field A Guide to Energy Management in Buildings Douglas Harris, 2016-11-29 This new edition of A Guide to Energy Management in Buildings begins by asking why we need to control energy use in buildings and proceeds to discuss how the energy consumption of a building can be assessed or estimated through an energy audit It then details a range of interventions to reduce energy use and outlines methods of assessing the cost effectiveness of such measures Topics covered include where and how energy is used in buildings energy audits measuring and monitoring energy use techniques for reducing energy use in buildings legislative issues And new in this edition the cooling of buildings fuel costs and smart metering and education and professional recognition It provides a template for instigating the energy management process within an organization as well as guidance on management issues such as employee motivation and gives practical details on how to carry the process through This book should appeal to building and facilities managers and also to students of energy management modules in FE and HE courses Handbook of Retrofitting High Density Residential Buildings Bertug Ozariso, Hasim Altan, 2023-01-01 This book investigates energy use and measures to improve the energy efficiency of public housing using post war social housing development estates in Cyprus as its example On this Mediterranean island which experiences hot and humid temperatures throughout the year residential buildings need to adapt to the climate to improve the thermal comfort of their occupants The book assesses the domestic energy use of inefficiently built residential tower blocks and their occupants thermal comfort by considering the significant impact of overheating risks on energy consumption and occupants thermal comfort and well being with the intention of evaluating the current energy performance of base case representative residential tower blocks RTBs In particular considering the cooling energy demand in the summer using Famagusta Cyprus as a case study It seeks to identify the impact of occupancy patterns and habitual adaptive behaviour of households on home energy performance in order to provide bases for the information needed to calibrate building energy performance of targeted households
