Dialogues On Power And Space:

Dialogues on Power and Space Carl Schmitt, 2015-10-12 Written in the early stages of the Cold War by one of the most controversial political and legal thinkers of the twentieth century Carl Schmitts two short dialogues on power and space bring together several dimensions of his work in new ways The dialogues renew Schmitts engagement with the questions of political power and geo politics that had been a persistent concern throughout his intellectual life As a basis on which to think through the historical role of human agency in relation to power and its new geographies the dialogues condense and rework key concepts in Schmitts political theory during a transitional period between his Weimar and fascist years to the post war writings In this book Schmitt develops a new dialectics of modern power and an original understanding of the global spatial transformations of the Cold War period Equally important the dialogues anticipate the debates on the new geo political possibilities and threats related to cosmic spaces overpowering technological advances and the existential predicament of the human in an increasingly multipolar world Reimagining Dialogue on Identity, Language and Power

Ching-Ching Lin, Clara Vaz Bauler, 2023-12-12 In this book dialogue is used as a research knowledge sharing and community building tool in which participants engage with each other in reflecting upon the perspectives of self and others challenging complementing and contradicting each other as critical peers The book aims to be an enactment of sociological reimagination as a way to reimagine public conversations that inspire criticality innovation and multimodality around the intersection of identity self language mediating mechanism and power sociocultural domain Each chapter illustrates the use of dialogue as a participatory research tool as a way in which the sharing of knowledge and the growth of understanding occurs through meaning and strategy making processes Together they present dialogue as an integrative model of self inquiry and social activism and provide a valuable standpoint to understand the participatory nature of our very effort to question and investigate our sense of self in the world

Power and Space John Allen, 2024-08-05 Power and Space sets out the inherently spatial nature of power today and seeks to change the conversation around how power exercises us in the contemporary moment The essays brought together in this book are a response to the fact that conventional descriptions of power and its ordered geographies no longer chime with our lived experience Spatiality matters to the workings of power nowadays and this book sheds light on what it is that we face when power is exercised through more subtle spatially nuanced arrangements It is divided into three parts each representing a different kind of engagement with power s relationship to space from the spatial shifts in the way power is exercised through to its assemblage like entanglements and in turn its progressive topological character Throughout the book a wide range of social political and economic examples are drawn upon to illustrate a more provisional sense of power ranging for instance from the seductive logic of privatized public spaces to the attempt by a data analytics company to manipulate political behaviour through to the offshore spaces invented by rising financial elites to challenge the established banking order Illustrating the new found abilities of the powerful to make their presence felt this book provides an accessible account of the practical workings of power in the present day It will be invaluable to students and academics in human geography and urban studies as well as politics sociology and cultural studies

Constituent Power Lucia Rubinelli, 2020-05-21 From the French Revolution onwards constituent power has been a key concept for thinking about the principle of popular power and how it should be realised through the state and its institutions Tracing the history of constituent power across five key moments the French Revolution nineteenth century French politics the Weimar Republic post WWII constitutionalism and political philosophy in the 1960s Lucia Rubinelli reconstructs and examines the history of the principle She argues that at any given time constituent power offered an alternative understanding of the power of the people to those offered by ideas of sovereignty Constituent Power A History also examines how in turn these competing understandings of popular power resulted in different institutional structures and reflects on why contemporary political thought is so prone to conflating constituent power with sovereignty

Dialogues in Data Power Juliane Jarke, Jo Bates, 2024-09-03 Available open access digitally under CC BY NC ND licence Written in an engaging dialogue format this book introduces readers to emerging themes and future directions in the interdisciplinary field of data studies It will be a key resource for scholars and students who require a cutting edge guide to this rapidly evolving area of research

Concepts and Dialogues across Shifting Spaces in Intercultural Business Clara Sarmiento, 2022-01-10 This volume explores how the promotion marketing and branding of culture have led to the development of economic strategies through creative industries cultural tourism and responsible business practices It considers how culture based initiatives can be used to boost the creation of business opportunities and enhance added value to the economy The book also contextualizes western and non western theories paradigms and practices in order to sustain independent ecological and critical methodologies for intercultural business By articulating principles theories structures performances and aesthetics across different cultures and communication channels the networks of cultural codes and practices emerge and are critically observed blurring conceptual frontiers and challenging conventional criteria of legitimation

Dialogues of Power Andrew Carl Sessions, 1998

Dialogues between Art and Business Anke Strauß, 2017-06-20 The relationship between the fine art and the business sphere has never been harmonious it has been rejected fought about ignored exploited criticised and questioned but it is still omnipresent Commonly assumed to be antagonistic situating art and the business organisation sphere in the discourses of new knowledge creation and learning however holds the potential of exploring new ways of relating the two spheres This book investigates such potentialities discussing the limits and challenges of these new forms of relating It does so by first outlining the changing discourses of the art and business spheres and how they produce different ways of relating to their respective worlds Second it brings into conversation an ethnographic study of an art business collaboration organised by two artists with a Deleuzian concept of dialogue Dialogue here is understood as a non hierarchical encounter developing between two spheres a source of creation no longer belonging to anyone In what is here termed a

machinic research framework accounting for composition and movement on all scales the book shows how making connections is a discursive and material practice with expectations and imaginaries playing a central role It also addresses the paradoxical interplays between losing control and maintaining control in collaborative attempts between reaching out for the Other and carrying out identity work and between positions in the centre and in the margins of the highly stratified and codified areas of business organisations and fine art Eventually this book examines small dialogical instances that escape the stratifying forces dividing the two worlds thereby creating a temporary space It closes with a reflection on the role of research in thinking and making new ways of relating the world of fine art and the business organisation sphere

Appropriating Hobbes David Boucher, 2018-03-06 This book explores how Hobbes's political philosophy has occupied a pertinent place in different contexts and how his interpreters see their own images reflected in him or how they define themselves in contrast to him Appropriating Hobbes argues that there is no Hobbes independent of the interpretations that arise from his appropriation in these various contexts and which serve to present him to the world There is no one perfect context that enables us to get at what Hobbes really meant despite the numerous claims to the contrary He is almost indistinguishable from the context in which he is read This contention is justified with reference to hermeneutics and particularly the theories of Gadamer Koselleck and Ricoeur contending that through a process of distanciation Hobbes's writings have been appropriated and commandeered to do service in divergent contexts such as philosophical idealism debates over the philosophical versus historical understanding of texts as well as in ideological disputations and emblematic characterisations of him by various disciplines such as law politics and international relations This volume illustrates the capacity of a text to take on the colouration of its surroundings by exploring and explicating the importance of contexts in reading and understanding how and why particular interpretations of Hobbes have emerged such as those of Carl Schmitt and Michael Oakeshott or the international jurists of the seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth centuries
