Dangerous Sanctuaries Dangerous Sanctuaries:

Dangerous Sanctuaries Sarah Kenyon Lischer, 2005-02-25 Since the early 1990s refugee crises in the Balkans Central Africa the Middle East and West Africa have led to the spread of civil war To understand the role of refugees in the spread of conflict this text systematically compares violent and nonviolent crises involving Afghan Bosnian Rwandan refugees Blue Helmets and Black Markets Peter Andreas, 2011-08-15 The 1992 1995 battle for Sarajevo was the longest siege in modern history It was also the most internationalized attracting a vast contingent of aid workers UN soldiers journalists smugglers and embargo busters The city took center stage under an intense global media spotlight becoming the most visible face of post Cold War conflict and humanitarian intervention However some critical activities took place backstage away from the cameras including extensive clandestine trading across the siege lines theft and diversion of aid and complicity in the black market by peacekeeping forces In Blue Helmets and Black Markets Peter Andreas traces the interaction between these formal front stage and informal backstage activities arguing that this created and sustained a criminalized war economy and prolonged the conflict in a manner that served various interests on all sides Although the vast majority of Sarajevans struggled for daily survival and lived in a state of terror the siege was highly rewarding for some key local and international players This situation also left a powerful legacy for postwar reconstruction new elites emerged via war profiteering and an illicit economy flourished partly based on the smuggling networks built up during wartime Andreas shows how and why the internationalization of the siege changed the repertoires of siege craft and siege defenses and altered the strategic calculations of both the besiegers and the besieged The Sarajevo experience dramatically illustrates that just as changes in weapons technologies transformed siege warfare through the ages so too has the arrival of CNN NGOs satellite phones UN peacekeepers and aid convoys Drawing on interviews reportage diaries memoirs and other sources Andreas documents the business of survival in wartime Sarajevo and the limits contradictions and unintended consequences of international intervention Concluding with a comparison of the battle for Sarajevo with the sieges of Leningrad Grozny and Srebrenica and more recently Falluja Blue Helmets and Black Markets is a major contribution to our understanding of contemporary urban warfare war economies and the political repercussions of humanitarian action Guns in America Donald J.

Campbell, 2021-08-09 This work provides readers with an authoritative resource for understanding the true extent and nature of gun violence in America examining the veracity of claims and counterclaims about mass shootings gun laws and public attitudes about gun control This work is part of a series that uses evidence based documentation to examine the veracity of claims and beliefs about high profile issues in American culture and politics Each book in the Contemporary Debates series is intended to puncture rather than perpetuate myths that diminish our understanding of important policies and positions to provide needed context for misleading statements and claims and to confirm the factual accuracy of other assertions This particular volume examines beliefs claims and myths about gun violence gun laws and gun rights in the United States Issues covered in the book include trends in firearm violence mass shootings the impact of gun ownership on rates and types of crime regulations and Supreme Court decisions regarding gun control and the Second Amendment and the activities and influence of organizations ranging from the National Rifle Association to Everytown for Gun Safety All of these topics are examined in individualized entries with objective responses grounded in up to date evidence Dangerous Hatchlings Nora Franklin, AI, 2025-02-12 Dangerous Hatchlings explores the fascinating world of young predators examining how certain animals are equipped from birth with the instincts and abilities to hunt The book focuses on species such as sharks crocodiles and venomous snakes illuminating the interplay between innate behaviors and environmental factors in shaping their predatory skills One intriguing fact is that some hatchlings exhibit complex hunting strategies without prior learning suggesting a strong genetic component Moreover the book emphasizes that early life experiences significantly influence their development highlighting the ongoing nature versus nurture debate in wildlife biology This book uniquely combines detailed case studies with broader ecological and evolutionary contexts It progresses from foundational concepts like natural selection and predator prey relationships to in depth analyses of specific species and their hunting techniques The approach emphasizes the importance of considering both genetic predispositions and environmental influences when studying animal behavior Ultimately Dangerous Hatchlings offers valuable insights into the lives of these young predators and the conservation implications of understanding their early development The Humanitarian Civilian Rebecca Sutton, 2021-02-25 In international humanitarian law IHL the principle of distinction delineates the difference between the civilian and the combatant and it safeguards the former from being intentionally targeted in armed conflicts This monograph explores the way in which the idea of distinction circulates within and beyond IHL Taking a bottom up approach the multi sited study follows distinction across three realms the kinetic realm where distinction is in motion in South Sudan the pedagogical realm where distinction is taught in civil military training spaces in Europe and the intellectual realm where distinction is formulated and adjudicated in Geneva and the Hague Directing attention to international humanitarian actors the book shows that these actors seize upon signifiers of civilanness in everyday practice To safeguard their civilian status and to deflect any qualities of combatantness that might affix to them humanitarian actors strive to distinguish themselves from other international actors in their midst The latter include peacekeepers working for the UN Mission in South Sudan UNMISS and soldiers who deploy with NATO missions Crucially some of the distinctions enacted cut along civilian civilian lines suggesting that humanitarian actors are longing for something more than civilian status the civilian plus This special status presents a paradox the appeal to the civilian plus undermines general civilian protection yet as the civilian ideal becomes increasingly beleaguered a special civilian status appears ever more desirable However disruptive these practices may be to the principle of distinction in IHL the monograph emphasizes that even at the most normative level there is no bright line distinction to be found The Challenges of Refugees and Internally Displaced Persons in Africa Sabella

O. Abidde, 2020-12-05 This book discusses the phenomena of refugees and internally displaced persons IDP across several African countries There are 40 million IDP worldwide of these an estimated 12.6 million are in 37 of Africa's 55 countries Written by a team of fifteen scholars across four continents this book uses both quantitative and qualitative data to analyze the causes and consequences of this displacement the role of the state in creating and mitigating these situations and potential policy solutions The volume is divided into three sections Chapters in Section 1 discuss the causes of displacement Chapters in Section 2 discuss refugees in their regional context Chapters in Section 3 discuss IDP camps in Kenya Nigeria and Ghana Bringing scholarly analysis to address two humanitarian crises this book will be useful to students and researchers interested in African politics forced migration and policy as well as members of the diplomatic corps governmental and non governmental organizations actively working towards solving these challenges In Danger Paola

Manfredi, 1997 The Future Faces of War Jennifer Dabbs Sciubba, 2010-12-07 This comprehensive and clear volume reveals the numerous ways demographic trends such as age structure composition and migration influence national security Population size structure distribution and composition affect security in numerous ways including national power civil conflict and development The Future Faces of War Population and National Security offers a comprehensive overview of how demographic trends can function as components indicators and multipliers of a state's national security Each chapter focuses on a particular demographic trend and describes its national security implications in three realms military regime and structural Illustrating the mechanisms by which demography and security are connected the book pushes the conversation forward by challenging common conceptions about demographic trends and national security Key for policymakers and general readers alike it goes on to suggest ways trends can provide opportunities for building partnerships and strengthening states Focusing on multiple scenarios and the theoretical links between population and security the insights gathered here will remain relevant for years to come Good Fences, Bad Neighbors Boaz Atzili, 2024-05-31 Border fixity

the proscription of foreign conquest and the annexation of homeland territory has since World War II become a powerful norm in world politics This development has been said to increase stability and peace in international relations Yet in a world in which it is unacceptable to challenge international borders by force sociopolitically weak states remain a significant source of widespread conflict war and instability In this book Boaz Atzili argues that the process of state building has long been influenced by external territorial pressures and competition with the absence of border fixity contributing to the evolution of strong states and its presence to the survival of weak ones What results from this norm he argues are conditions that make internal conflict and the spillover of interstate war more likely Using a comparison of historical and contemporary case studies Atzili sheds light on the relationship between state weakness and conflict His argument that under some circumstances an international norm that was established to preserve the peace may actually create conditions that are ripe for war is sure to generate debate and shed light on the dynamics of continuing conflict in the twenty first century

Driven from Home David Silkenat, 2016-10-15 Examining refugees of Civil War era North Carolina Driven from Home reveals the complexity and diversity of the war's displaced populations and the inadequate responses of governmental and charitable organizations as refugees scrambled to secure the necessities of daily life In North Carolina writes David Silkenat the relative security of the Piedmont and mountains drew pro Confederate elements from across the region Early in the war Union invaders established strongholds on the coast to which their sympathizers fled in droves Silkenat looks at five groups caught up in this floodtide of emigration enslaved African Americans who fled to freedom white Unionists pro Confederate whites both slave owners who often forced their slaves to migrate with them and non slave owners and young women often from more besieged areas of the South who attended the state's many boarding schools From their varied experiences a picture emerges of a humanitarian crisis driven by mobility shaped by unprecedented economic pressures and disease vectors and exacerbated by governments unwilling or unable to provide meaningful relief For anyone seeking context to current refugee crises Driven from Home has much to say about the crushing administrative and logistical challenges of aid work the illusory nature of such concepts as home fronts and battle lines and the ongoing debate over links between relief and dependence
