Portrait Practice in the Second Century AD Christian Niederhuber, 2022-06-16 It has long been thought that imperial portrait types were officially commissioned to commemorate specific historical moments and that they were made available to both the mint and the marble workshops in Rome assuming a close correspondence between portraits on coins and in the round All of this however has never been clearly proven nor has it been disproven by a close systematic examination of the evidence on a broad material basis by those scholars who have questioned it Through systematic case studies of Faustina the Younger's and Marcus Aurelius portraits on coins and in sculpture this book provides new insights into the functioning of the imperial image in Rome in the second century AD that move a difficult much discussed subject forward decisively The new evidence presented here has made it necessary to adjust the established model more flexibility is needed to describe the processes and practices behind the phenomenon of repeated imperial portraits and how the imperial portrait worked in the mint of Rome and in the metropolitan marble workshops The Mask of Socrates Paul Zanker, 2024-03-29 This richly illustrated work provides a new and deeper perspective on the interaction of visual representation and classical culture from the fifth century B C to the fourth century A D Drawing on a variety of source materials including Greco Roman literature historiography and philosophy coupled with artistic renderings Paul Zanker forges the first comprehensive history of the visual representation of Greek and Roman intellectuals He takes the reader from the earliest visual images of Socrates and

Plato to the figures of Christ the Apostles and contemporaneous pagan and civic dignitaries Through his interpretations of the postures gestures facial expressions and stylistic changes of particular pieces we come to know these great poets and philosophers through all of their various personas the prophetic wise man the virtuous democratic citizen or the self absorbed bon vivant Zanker s analysis of how the iconography of influential thinkers and writers changed demonstrates the rise and fall of trends and the movement of schools of thought and belief each successively embodying the most valued characteristics of the period and culture This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1995
