Bibliography of Natural History Travel Narratives Anne S. Troelstra, 2017-06-01 Anne Troelstra's fine bibliography is an outstanding and ground breaking work He has provided the academic world with a long needed bibliographical record of human endeavour in the field of the natural sciences The travel narratives listed here encompass all aspects of the natural world in every part of the globe but are especially concerned with its fauna flora and fossil remains Such eyewitness accounts have always fascinated their readers but they were never written solely for entertainment fragmentary though they often are these narratives of travel and exploration are of immense importance for our scientific understanding of life on earth providing us with a window on an ever changing and often vanishing natural world Without such records of the past we could not track document or understand the significance of changes that are so important for the study of zoogeography With this book Troelstra gives us a superb overview of natural history travel narratives The well over four thousand detailed entries ranging over four centuries and all major western European languages are drawn from a wide range of sources and include both printed books and periodical contributions While no subject bibliography by a single author can attain absolute completeness Troelstra's work is comprehensive to a truly remarkable degree The entries are arranged alphabetically by author and chronologically by the year of first publication under the author's name A brief biography with the scope and range of their work is given for each author every title is set in context the contents including illustrations are described and all known editions and translations are cited In addition there is a geographical index that cross refers between authors and the regions visited and a full list of the bibliographical and biographical sources used in compiling the bibliography

The Genealogy of Knowledge Christiaan Jozef Joannes Buskes, 1998 Chris Buskes's The Genealogy of Knowledge provides a comprehensive and critical defense of evolutionary approaches to epistemology and philosophy of science Buskes shows that until recently many philosophers had a keen interest in physics and mathematics but they tended to neglect the findings and important implications of evolutionary biology By trying to rectify this omission the author convincingly demonstrates that neo Darwinian theory is simply indispensable for a proper understanding of the various cognitive processes found in animals and man He also shows that from a biological point of view we are forced to broaden our concept of knowledge all instances of adaptive evolution are instances in which knowledge about the natural world has been gained Finally The Genealogy of Knowledge explores the many parallels between biological and scientific evolution It is claimed that Darwin's scheme of explanation can be applied successfully to the epistemic domain which means that scientific and methodological change can be understood as analogous to biological evolution
