Conflict Peace Security And Development Theories And Methodologies:

Conflict, Peace, Security and Development Helen Hintjens, Dubravka Zarkov, 2014-08-13 Whilst classical approaches linked development with peace security has become central to understandings of both war and peacetime This book uniquely reflects on how to deal with the convergence of war and peace in the context of global economic and geo political development It addresses methodological challenges in contemporary approaches to conflict violence security peace and development Two dominant contemporary approaches are selected for debate on methodologies and ethical choices rational choice and identity based theorizing The chapters are arranged as dialogues around contending approaches to better understand how the inter locking fields of violent conflict peace development and security can be researched and understood The book considers how theoretical and methodological approaches relate to different ethical and political choices including around engagement and intervention in the four interwoven fields Theoretical methodological and ethical issues emerge from the critical reviews of academic discourses and case study based chapters from across the world including Sri Lanka Ghana Colombia and Rwanda This book is an invaluable resource for postgraduate students and researchers in Development Studies Conflict Studies Peace Studies and Security Studies The ^AOxford Handbook of Gender and Conflict Fionnuala Ní Aoláin, Naomi Cahn, Dina Francesca Haynes, Nahla Valji, 2017-12-15 In The Oxford Handbook of Gender and Conflict Fionnuala N Aol in Naomi Cahn Dina Francesca Haynes and Nahla Valji focus on the multidimensionality of gender in conflict yet they also prioritize the experience of women given both the changing nature of war and the historical de emphasis on women s experiences Law, Religion and Reconciliation in Africa M. Christian Green, Jean-Baptiste Sourou, Célestin Gnonzion†, 2024-05-20 Forgiveness and reconciliation are important moments for the stability of a society and a state Many African countries have gone through serious social crises in the post colonial period genocide post election crises civil and internal conflicts and outright war Forgiveness and reconciliation have been necessary to reweave the social fabric and restart the construction of peaceful and prosperous societies Chapters in this book examine the Truth and Reconciliation Commissions and religious councils aimed at peace along with African traditional approaches mediation and arbitration councils post conflict contexts and the roles of women and gender philosophy and theology and programs of education for peace Sport, Gender and Development Lyndsay M.C. Hayhurst, Holly Thorpe, Megan Chawansky, 2021-12-10 The ebook edition of this title is Open Access thanks to Knowledge Unlatched funding and freely available to read online Sport Gender and Development brings together an exploration of sport feminisms to offer new approaches to research on Sport for Development and Peace SDP in global and local contexts An Uneasy Hegemony Shyamika Jayasundara-Smits, 2022-11-10 It departs from the scholarship produced on Sri Lanka and re introduces the neo Marxist approaches through the works of Antonio Gramsci Reimagining Justice, Human Rights and Leadership in Africa Everisto Benyera, 2019-08-08 Failed attempts in Africa to develop democratise and instil virtues of a just state and society which promote benevolent leadership and advance political and economic rights and freedoms call for a new imagination. By exploring a wide range of issues concerning justice, human rights and leadership, this book makes two major contributions to the extant literature in each of these areas. Firstly, as a project in decoloniality, it constitutes an epistemic break from mainstream logics and approaches to understanding state, society and development in Africa, presenting an approach that is filtered through a Euro-American lens that reifies the hegemony of a particular spatio-temporality. In other words, it emphasises the importance of situatedness by thinking from, rather than about or with, Africa. And secondly, it addresses a fundamental shortcoming in decolonial thought which is often criticised for rejecting western paradigms of thought without providing viable alternatives. The issues covered include state failure in Africa, the geopolitics of US and NATO military interventions on the continent, individual states' responses to international law, indigenous moral, political leadership, authentic inclusion of marginalised voices in development practice, an endogenous approach to environmental ethics and a spiritualist reflection on the need for Africa to chart her own course to political, social and economic redemption. By searching for alternative paths to justice, human rights and leadership, this book represents an effort to actualise the core vision of the African Renaissance to find African solutions for African problems.

Transitional Justice and the Public Sphere Chrisje Brants, Susanne Karstedt, 2017-11-02. Transparency is a fundamental principle of justice. A cornerstone of the rule of law, it allows for public engagement and for democratic control of the decisions and actions of both the judiciary and the justice authorities. This book looks at the question of transparency within the framework of transitional justice. Bringing together scholars from across the disciplinary spectrum, the collection analyses the issue from socio-legal, cultural studies and practitioner perspectives. Taking a three-part approach, it firstly discusses basic principles guiding justice globally, before exploring courts and how they make justice visible. Finally, the collection reviews the interface between law, transitional justice institutions and the public sphere.

Religion, Gender, and Wellbeing in Africa Chammah J. Kaunda, 2021-05-11. Religion, Gender and Wellbeing in Africa argues that in many African societies, ideas and practices of wellbeing and gender relations continue to be informed and shaped by religious epistemologies. The contributors affirm that for many Africans, it is through religious/spiritual frameworks that daily experiences, interactions and gender relations are understood and interpreted. However, for many African women, religions have functioned as a double-edged sword. Although they have contributed to the struggle against issues such as colonialism, gender justice, climate justice and human rights, they have also endorsed and perpetuated sexism, heterosexism, homophobia and the denial of human rights for a wide variety of people on the margins. The chapters within this collection demonstrate that most religions and religious formations in Africa have not yet positioned themselves as forces for wellbeing, gender justice and security for African women and children. The contributors challenge simplistic and superficial readings and interpretations of religious spirituality in Africa and call for deeper engagements of the interplay between Africa's religious/spiritual realities and the wellbeing of women, particularly around issues of gender justice.

reproductive health and human rights Representing the Experience of War and Atrocity Ronnie Lippens, Emma Murray, 2019-04-26 This book explores how the experience of war and related atrocities tend to be visually expressed and how such articulations and representations are circulated and consumed Each chapter of this volume examines how an image can contribute to a richer understanding of the experience of war and atrocity and thus they contribute to the burgeoning field of the criminology of war Topics include the destruction of war in oppositional cultural forms comparing the Nazi period with the ISIS destruction of Palmyra and the visual aesthetics of violence deployed by Jihadi terrorism The contributors are a multi disciplinary team drawn mainly from criminology but also sociology international relations gender studies English and the visual arts This book will advance this field in new directions with refreshing original work The Routledge Handbook of Field Research Daniel Hammett, Naomi Holmes, 2025-07-28 The Routledge Handbook of Field Research presents a comprehensive go to resource for staff and students in preparing for and thinking about the doing of field research including both individual fieldwork and group field classes Framed by rapidly evolving debates relating to environmental and social justice decolonialism the climate crisis and post truth society as well as taking into account ethical health and safety and other practical considerations researchers are faced with a complex and evolving set of factors when making decisions Working from foundational questions relating to the need for and importance of field research of where the field is through logistical and practical concerns to complex debates around equality and diversity power relations sustainability and ethical conundrums this book is not a simple formulaic how to guide Instead the handbook offers a more critical and reflective approach acting more as a how to start to think critically about text In providing a comprehensive and cutting edge overview of key debates and considerations in the planning doing and wrapping up of field research the handbook shares examples and reflections from experienced field researchers and field class leaders as well as scenarios debates and critical questions to help guide field researchers through their research journey While there is a rapidly expanding array of books on research methods and epistemologies this handbook offers a unique contribution that addresses distinct gaps in the current literature Through a strong emphasis on field class and group based field research this handbook offers a unique resource to support field class leaders in thinking through the design and doing of field classes and adopts a pedagogical approach in asking difficult questions of the reader rather than offering the answer In so doing we promote a deeper reflective engagement with the complexities of the research journey The Routledge Handbook of Field Research includes contributions from over 50 leading authors culminating in an essential resource for both experienced field researchers and field class leaders as well as newcomers to lone and group based field research
