Developing Game Intelligence in Soccer , Coaching Soccer Like Guardiola and Mourinho Timo Jankowski, 2016-08-29 A soccer player is more than the sum of his parts endurance speed shooting technique passing technique and many more All of these factors need to be turned into one system to create good players Traditional training theory doesn't achieve that because each skill is trained individually This is why the concept of Tactical Periodization has become the preferred training theory for many of the current most successful soccer coaches Pep Guardiola Jos Mourinho Diego Simeone Andr Villas Boas and many others train according to these principles By creating match like situations in practice players learn to link their technical tactical and athletic abilities to match intelligence They will learn to transfer their skills to soccer matches and they can improve endurance technique and tactics all at the same time while enjoying the practice sessions more For this book the author has evaluated and analyzed hundreds of training sessions and has tailored exercises to specific demands All exercises are performed with a ball so that players learn to apply each skill to the game Every coach will find numerous exercises in this book to help them create better and more efficient practice sessions so they can improve their players and the team's performance With Tactical Periodization your team will become better and be successful on the next match day

Simple Ways to Coach Soccer Intelligence Marcus Dibernardo, 2019-12-24 Game intelligence in team sports is hard to quantify as top level players are noticed for their exceptional ability to read the game anticipate the next play and find solutions on the field It is very difficult to isolate a single action and then attribute it to game intelligence but when we look at a player's overall ability it can generally be categorized into two parts First the ability to strategize and make intelligent situational decisions on the field and second the carrying out of those decisions with technical skill and speed The foundation of game intelligence is found in part one the decision making and strategy component but technical and physical skill also play a part in decision making When I talk about game intelligence with soccer coaches the majority of them do not want to hear about scientific studies data and abstract theories Coaches want logical and realistic training methods that work which can be incorporated into their regular practices This is why connecting the dots of game intelligence with logical training methods is so important For a number of reasons I believe the most effective and direct way to develop game intelligence is through game based trainings These are the types of trainings where players are constantly playing stoppages are limited and coaches tend to speak to individual players without stopping the game
