

The painting 'The Face of War' by Salvador Dalí is a complex surrealist work. It features a large, central face of a man with a mustache, composed of various landscape elements. The face's features are defined by different scenes: a landscape with a river and trees for the left side of the face, a landscape with a river and a bridge for the right side, and a landscape with a river and a bridge for the bottom. The face is set against a background of a landscape with a river and a bridge. The painting is a masterpiece of Dalí's surrealist style, combining elements of nature and human figures in a dreamlike, impossible way.
