Confronting Mortality With Art And Science Confronting Mortality With Art And Science:

Confronting Mortality with Art and Science Pascale Pollier-Green, 2007 A rare entry into the nexus of science and art this thought provoking exploration introduces the ongoing research by scientists and artists into the fascinating subject of death and mortality The unique practices of medical and scientific artists share a desire to piece the world together using the power of representational drawing Their common belief that to draw is to see seeks to answer the riddles of mortality through the cultivation of their art and what begins as an exploration of death ultimately becomes a celebration of life This collection presents an introduction to the front lines of medical and scientific art elaborating upon the ethos of their movement and showcasing some of their greatest discoveries Edinburgh Companion to the Critical Medical Humanities Anne Whitehead, 2016-06-14 In this landmark Companion expert contributors from around the world map out the field of the critical medical humanities This is the first volume to introduce comprehensively the ways in which interdisciplinary thinking across the humanities and social sciences might contribute to critique and develop medical understanding of the human individually and collectively The thirty six newly commissioned chapters range widely within and across disciplinary fields always alert to the intersections between medicine as broadly defined and critical thinking Each chapter offers suggestions for further reading on the issues raised and each section concludes with an Afterword written by a leading critic outlining future possibilities for cutting edge work in this area Topics covered in this volume include the affective body biomedicine blindness breath disability early modern medical practice fatness the genome language madness narrative race systems biology performance the postcolonial public health touch twins voice and wonder Together the chapters generate a body of new knowledge and make a decisive intervention into how health medicine and clinical care might address questions of individual subjective and embodied experience Science in the Age of Baroque Ofer Gal, Raz Chen-Morris, 2012-11-28 This volume examines the New Science of the 17th century in the context of Baroque culture analysing its emergence as an integral part of the high culture of the period The collected essays explore themes common to the new practices of knowledge production and the rapidly changing culture surrounding them as well as the obsessions anxieties and aspirations they share such as the foundations of order the power and peril of mediation and the conflation of the natural and the artificial The essays also take on the historiographical issues involved the characterization of culture in general and culture of knowledge in particular the use of generalizations like Baroque and the status of such categories and the role of these in untangling the historical complexities of the tumultuous 17th century The canonical protagonists of the Scientific Revolution are considered and so are some obscure and suppressed figures Galileo side by side with Scheiner Torricelli together with Kircher Newton as well as Scilla The coupling of Baroque and Science defies both the still triumphalist historiographies of the Scientific Revolution and the slight embarrassment that the Baroque represents for most cultural national histories of Western Europe It signals a methodological interest in tensions and dilemmas rather than self affirming narratives of success and failure and provides an opportunity for reflective critique of our historical categories which is valuable in its own right

Watching Vesuvius Sean Cocco, 2013 This work explores the question of Vesuvius as an object of study in the early modern science of volcanism from the investigations and opinions of humanists and naturalists in the late Renaissance to the early 18th century philosophizing on volcanoes and the development of geology later in the century

Language of Mixed-Media Sculpture Jac Scott, 2014-04-30 The Language of Mixed Media Sculpture is both a survey and a celebration of contemporary approaches to sculptures that are formed from more than one material It profiles the discipline in all its expanded forms and recognizes sculpture in the twenty first century not as something solid and static but rather as a fluid interface in material time and space It gives insightful revelations of the creative journeys of ten renowned sculptors and showcases twenty eight international sculptors With over two hundred colour photographs this sumptuously illustrated volume will inspire those intrigued by and interested in contemporary sculpture Lavishly illustrated with 223 colour illustrations

Till death rips us apart Gábor Vona, 2022-08-27 In this book I am searching for the why of human culture Not what we do not how but why In my work I have tried to incorporate the findings of many disciplines into my cultural history model but I have really brought together five things my studies in history my political experiences existential psychology terror management theory and network theory Adam and Eve took a bite of the forbidden fruit and now we know what became of it But what if Adam and Eve return to Paradise after a long wander and there is nothing there In fact it turns out there never was It turns out they made it all up What does that imply Well that is the most important question of the twenty first century

The Digital Logic of Death Steven Pustay, 2021-01-14 This book is open access and available on www.bloomsburycollections.com It is funded by Knowledge Unlatched In The Digital Logic of Death Steven Pustay skillfully makes visible the immensely important but often overlooked role that moving images play in shaping our understanding of mortality This relationship he argues is made all the more urgent by the technologies of the digital age which have profoundly altered our ability to represent and contemplate death through moving images resulting in an entirely new cultural logic of death To draw out this new logic Pustay presents accessible readings of otherwise dense and difficult philosophical approaches to death such as those found in existentialism psychoanalysis and critical theory by reading them through the lens of contemporary media From art house films like Irr versible and The Fountain to blockbusters like the Matrix trilogy from television commercials for M M s to pay cable dramas like The Sopranos and Breaking Bad from first person shooters like Bioshock to indie games like LIMBO Pustay shows how moving images have shifted our understanding of death in general and our recognition of our own finiteness in particular

Facing Up to Mortality Daniel Liechty, 2021-10-21 Exploring a new approach to interfaith interreligious communication the contributors to this collection seek to interact from the perspective of their own tradition or academic discipline with Ernest Becker s theory on the relationship between religion culture and the human awareness of death and mortality While much interfaith interreligious dialogue focuses on beliefs and practices thus delineating areas of disagreement as a starting point these chapters foster interactive communication rooted in areas of the universal human experience Thus by demonstration these authors argue for the integrity and efficacy of this approach for pursuing intercultural and interdisciplinary communication Facing Cancer and the Fear of Death Norman Straker, 2012-12-27 In Facing Cancer and the Fear of Death A Psychoanalytic Perspective on Treatment Dr Norman Straker proposes that death anxiety is responsible for the American society's failure to address costly futile care at the end of life more specifically doctors default on the appropriate prescription of palliative care because of this anxiety This leads to unnecessary suffering for terminally ill patients and their families and significant distress for physicians To address these challenges in the culture of medical education increased psychological support for physicians who treat dying patients is necessary Additionally physicians need to reach a consensus regarding the discontinuation of active treatments Psychoanalysts have traditionally denied the importance of death anxiety and report relatively few treatment cases of dying patients in their literature This book offers multiple treatment reports by psychoanalysts that illustrate the effectiveness and value of a flexible approach to patients facing death The psychoanalytic reader is expected to gain a greater level of comfort with facing death and is encouraged to consider making themselves more available to the ever increasing population of cancer survivors Further psychoanalysts are encouraged to be more useful partners to the oncologists that are burdened by the irrational feelings of all parties Facing Death: Images, Insights, and Interventions Sandra L. Bertman, 2016-01-08 Facing Death is a unique handbook for educators healthcare professionals and counselors It uses materials from the visual arts excerpts from poetry fiction drama and examples from popular culture to sensitize the reader to important universal issues confronting the dying and those responsible for their care
