Vel, 2008-01-01 Democracy cannot be implemented overnight Democratization is an often unpredictable process This book concentrates on that political transformation in one of Indonesia's most traditional islands Sumba Why does democratization create such great opportunities for local politicians with their private agenda's Why does regional autonomy as part of the national democratization program promote socio economic inequality in West Sumba This book is written out of an intimate knowledge of Sumba's social groupings Jacqueline Vel lived in Sumba as a development worker for six years in the 1980s and has made frequent return visits for further research since then She studied every stage of transition to democracy in the local context thus creating this ethnography of democratization The book analyses themes apparent in a series of chronological events that occurred over a period of twenty years 1986 2006 Uma Politics is the sequel of Vel's dissertation The Uma Economy and the title refers to the uniquely Sumbanese type of network politics The author brings together tradition with the modern economy government and politics into an evolving dynamic concept of political culture The Flow of Life James J. Fox, 1980 Indonesia east of Bali is perhaps the least known of all major cultural areas of Southeast Asia Yet the anthropology of the region has long held a prominent place in the development of structuralist theories of marital exchange and symbolic classification Falling in a distinguished lineage running from van Wouden to Levi Strauss to Rodney Needham The Flow of Life presents a comprehensive set of essays by a distinguished group of international scholars which provides both a full picture of this culturally rich area and an important extension of earlier structuralist theory This volume is bound to become the standard source on the social anthropology of eastern Indonesia But it is a work of more than regional significance providing a variety of empirical resources to address the questions which lie at the bottom of much structuralist thought about mind and society what is the nature of symbolic thought how does consciousness intertwine with society and ecology what is the difference between primitive and modern society Renegotiating Boundaries, 2014-04-09 For decades almost the only social scientists who visited Indonesia's provinces were anthropologists Anybody interested in politics or economics spent most of their time in Jakarta where the action was Our view of the world's fourth largest country threatened to become simplistic lacking that essential graininess Then in 1998 Indonesia was plunged into a crisis that could not be understood with simplistic tools After 32 years of enforced stability the New Order was at an end Things began to happen in the provinces that no one was prepared for Democratization was one decentralization another Ethnic and religious identities emerged that had lain buried under the blanket of the New Order's modernizing ideology Unfamiliar sometimes violent forms of political competition and of rentseeking came to light Decentralization was often connected with the neo liberal desire to reduce state powers and make room for free trade and democracy To what extent were the goals of good governance and a stronger civil society achieved How much of the process was captured by regional elites to increase their own powers Amidst the new identity politics what has happened to citizenship These are among the central questions addressed in this book This volume is the result of a two year research project at KITLV It brings together an international group of 24 scholars mainly from Indonesia and the Netherlands but also from the United States Australia Germany Canada and Portugal
