Conversation Sous Conversation Nathalie Sarraute Tropismes:

Nathalie Sarraute, du tropisme à la phrase Philippe Wahl, Université de Lyon II., 2003 Par leur caractère toujours plus affirmé d'exploration du langage les textes de Sarraute constituent pour l'analyse stylistique un objet de leçon L'œuvre est gouvernée par une idée fixe d'essence dynamique les tropismes mouvements intérieurs qu'il s'agit d'exprimer par une forme sensible Alors que la résistance oppose au langage par le non-nom de l'expérience vouée le discours une référence opaque ou instable la phrase se porte au secours du mot d'aplanir en un processus d'explication Elle impose dans l'écrit unelasticité caractéristique de l'oral

Dialogue Analysis IX: Dialogue in Literature and the Media, Part 1: Literature Anne Betten, Monika Dannerer, 2011-12-22 These two volumes offer a selection of the papers held at the conference of the International Association for Dialogue Analysis IADA in 2003 Volume I contains 38 articles devoted to dialogue and the phenomenon of dialogicity in literature ranging from antiquity to a large number of modern languages and literatures The conversation analytic approaches drawn upon are notable for their methodological diversity This is also true of the 32 articles in Volume II The main focus here is on present day types of dialogue in the new electronic media and their traditional counterparts press radio television film The examples are taken from various countries and they are discussed in terms of the intercultural semiotic translatorial and general pragmatic issues they pose

Proust and Joyce in Dialogue Sarah Tribout-Joseph, 2017-07-05 It might reasonably be asked what the connection is between Françoise's malapropisms in Proust and the erudite allusions of Stephen's interior monologue in Joyce Tribout-Joseph argues that they are indeed interrelated Proust and Joyce are exemplary of Modernism's reconciliation of high literature with popular voices Both writers explore the process of incorporation the interface between speech and narrative Fragments of discourse are taken from diverse sources and reoriented within new contexts Proposed here are interconnected close readings of socio-political debate body talk listening processes silences intertextual echoes cliché register conflated voices chatter gossip eavesdropping internalized debate and misunderstandings which allow for a new configuration of the authors to emerge

leading exponent of the Nouveau Roman Nathalie Sarraute 1900 1999 was also one of France's most cosmopolitan literary figures and her life was bound up with the intellectual and political ferment of 20th century Europe Ann Jefferson's work is an authoritative biography of this major writer Nathalie Sarraute and the Feminist Reader Sarah Barbour, 1993 Situated at an intersection of feminist critical practice in the United States and feminist cultural theory in France Nathalie Sarraute and the Feminist Reader is an investigation of the way in which this French New Novelist's first eight works in their increasing dramatization of the issue of reading problematize certain feminist literary analyses especially in relation to l'écriture féminine After an exploration of the difficulty Sarraute's writing poses for the critical enterprise through a lengthy reading of Sarrautien criticism in the U S and France Sarah Barbour shows how Sarraute's works eventually prohibit any fixed reading and open up instead a space in which we as readers are moved toward a more personal understanding of our use of narrative and of socio sexual constructs in the continual day to day constitution and reconstitution of subjectivity Nathalie Sarraute conceives of the evolution of the novel as a movement through history and thus situates her work within a tradition of psychological realism at the same time that she proposes radical innovations of the tradition Her novels do not discard or revise past works but rather internalize them in an effort to expand the notion of what is possible for psychological realism This study takes as its model Sarraute's example of simultaneity which invites an understanding of time both as a diachronic movement through phases from the psychological realism of Dostoyevski to that of Kafka to her own and as a synchronic encounter that elicits simultaneous relationships to different phases Within the movement of feminist literary criticism scholars have often discerned what are also referred to as phases that is criticism in the United States has moved from its initial concern with images of women in fiction by male writers to a desire to establish a feminine tradition of women's writing Nathalie Sarraute and the Feminist Reader is not an attempt to claim that Sarraute's work represents écriture féminine Reading Sarraute's novels in their evolution Sarah Barbour has found that they forced her own reading and understanding of this term to evolve She therefore proposes that the novels open up a space that is beyond the frozen shells of gender which continue to bind women and men personally and critically The power of Sarraute's work lies in the solitary experience of our encounter with her presentation and perception of reality In this encounter we are forced to experience the fluid nature of subjectivity that is to internalize and explore differences within personal and sexual identity that by extension affect the identity of larger political movements Echo's Voice Mary Noonan, 2017-07-05 Helene Cixous 1937 distinguished not least as a playwright herself told Le Monde in 1977 that she no longer went to the theatre it presented women only as reflections of men used for their visual effect The theatre she wanted would stress the auditory giving voice to ways of being that had previously been silenced She was by no means alone in this Cixous's plays along with those of Nathalie Sarraute 1900 99 Marguerite Duras 1914 96 and Noelle Renaude 1949 among others have proved potent in drawing participants into a dynamic space of the voice If as psychoanalysis suggests voice represents a transitional condition between body and language such plays may draw their audiences in to understandings previously never spoken In this ground breaking study Noonan explores the rich possibilities of this new audio vocal form of theatre and what it can reveal of the auditory self

Nathalie Sarraute, Fiction and Theory Ann Jefferson, 2000-07-03 Nathalie Sarraute 1900-99 is regarded as one of the major French novelists of the twentieth century Initially hailed as a leading theorist and exemplar of the nouveau roman she has come to be regarded as an important author in her own right with her own distinctive concerns In this major 2000 study of Sarraute the first in English since her death Ann Jefferson offers a fresh perspective on Sarraute s entire oeuvre her novels her outstanding autobiography Enfance and her influential critical writings by focusing on the crucial issue of difference which emerges as one of her central preoccupations Drawing on a variety of critical approaches Jefferson explores Sarraute s fundamental ambivalence to differences of various kinds including questions of gender and genre She argues that difference is simultaneously asserted and denied in Sarraute s work and that the notion of difference so often celebrated by other writers and thinkers is shown in Sarraute s work to be inseparable from ambiguity and anxiety
