Conversations With Audre Lorde Literary Conversations Series:

Conversations with Audre Lorde Audre Lorde, 2004 Audre Lorde 1934 1992 the author of eleven books of poetry described herself as a Black feminist lesbian poet warrior mother but she added that this phrase was inadequate in capturing her full identity The interviews in this collection portray the many additional sides of the Harlem born author and activist She was also a rebellious child of Caribbean parents a mastectomy patient a blue collar worker a college professor a student of African mythology an experimental autobiographer in her book titled Zami a critic of imperialism and a charismatic orator Despite her intense engagement with the major social movements of her time Lorde told interviewers that she was always an outsider a position of weakness and of strength Most of her schoolmates were white She married a white legal aid attorney and after their divorce she was the partner of a white psychologist for many years These intimate alliances with whites caused some African Americans of both genders to question the depth of her solidarity Lorde expressed distrust of some white feminists and charged that they lacked real understanding of African American struggles Writing proved to be her powerful weapon against injustice Painfully aware that differences could provoke prejudice and violence she promoted the bridging of barriers These interviews reveal the sense of displacement that made Lorde a champion of the outcast and the forgotten whether in New York Mississippi Berlin or Soweto Transatlantic Cultural Exchange Katharina

Gerund, 2014-03-15 From Josephine Baker's performances in the 1920s to the 1970s solidarity campaigns for Angela Davis from Audre Lorde as mother of the Afro German movement in the 1980s to the literary stardom of 1993 Nobel Laureate Toni Morrison Germans have actively engaged with African American women's art and activism throughout the 20th century The discursive strategies that have shaped the West German reactions to African American women's social activism and cultural work are examined in this study which proposes not only a nuanced understanding of African Americanizations as a form of cultural exchange but also sheds new light on the role of African American culture for West German society culture and national identity The Women Who Made New York Julie Scelfo, 2016-10-25 The Women Who Made New York reveals the untold stories of the phenomenal women who made New York City the cultural epicenter of the world Many were revolutionaries and activists like Zora Neale Hurston and Audre Lorde Others were icons and iconoclasts like Fran Lebowitz and Grace Jones There were also women who led quieter private lives but were just as influential such as Emily Warren Roebling who completed the construction of the Brooklyn Bridge when her engineer husband became too ill to work Amazon.com

Social (In)Justice and Mental Health Ruth S. Shim, M.D., M.P.H., Sarah Y. Vinson, M.D., 2020-12-09 Social Injustice and Mental Health introduces readers to the concept of social justice and role that social injustice plays in the identification diagnosis and management of mental illnesses and substance use disorders Unfair and unjust policies and practices bolstered by deep seated beliefs about the inferiority of some groups has led to a small number of people having tremendous advantages freedoms and opportunities while a growing number are denied those liberties and rights The book provides a framework for thinking about why these inequities exist and persist and provides clinicians with a road map to address these inequalities as they relate to racism the criminal justice system and other systems and diagnoses Social In Justice and Mental Health addresses the context in which mental health care is delivered strategies for raising consciousness in the mental health profession and ways to improve treatment while redressing injustice Matrilineal Dissent Annie

Atura Bushnell, Lori Harrison-Kahan, Ashley Walters, 2024-05-07 Collectively contributors reframe Jewish American literary history through feminist approaches that have revolutionized the field from intersectionality and the MeToo movement to queer theory and disability studies Examining both canonical and lesser known texts this collection asks what happens to conventional understandings of Jewish American literature when we center women s writing and acknowledge women as dominant players in Jewish cultural production Conversations with LeAnne Howe Kirstin L. Squint, 2022-02-04

Feminisms, Rhetorics Melissa A. Goldthwaite, 2017-06-19 Inspired by the need for interpretations and critiques of the varied messages surrounding what and how we eat Food Feminisms Rhetorics collects eighteen essays that demonstrate the importance of food and food related practices as sites of scholarly study particularly from feminist rhetorical perspectives Contributors analyze messages about food and bodies from what a person watches and reads to where that person shops taken from sources mundane and literary personal and cultural This collection begins with analyses of the historical cultural and political implications of cookbooks and recipes explores definitions of feminist food writing and ends with a focus on bodies and cultures both self representations and representations of others for particular rhetorical purposes The genres objects and practices contributors study are varied from cookbooks to genre fiction from blogs to food systems from product packaging to paintings but the overall message is the same food and its associated practices are worthy of scholarly attention

Conversations with Sonia Sanchez Sonia Sanchez, 2007 Collected interviews with the poet activist and author of Home Coming and We a BaddDDD People Tulsa Studies in Women's Literature , 2004 Conversations with Lorraine Hansberry Mollie Godfrey, 2020-12-28 Honorable Mention Recipient of the Modern Language Association Prize for Collaborative Bibliographical or Archival Scholarship Spanning from the debut of A Raisin in the Sun on Broadway in 1959 to her early death from cancer in January 1965 Lorraine Hansberry's short stint in the public eye changed the landscape of American theater With A Raisin in the Sun Hansberry 1930-1965 became both the first African American woman to have a play produced on Broadway and the first to win the prestigious New York Drama Critics Circle Award Resonating deeply with the aims of the civil rights movement Raisin also ushered in a new era of Black representation on the stage and screen displacing the cartoonish stereotypes that were the remnants of blackface minstrelsy in favor of complex three dimensional portrayals of Black characters and Black life Hansberry's public discourse in the aftermath of Raisin's success also disrupted mainstream critical tendencies to diminish the work of Black artists helping pave the way for future work by Black playwrights Conversations with Lorraine Hansberry is the first volume to collect all of her substantive interviews in one place including many radio and television interviews that have never before appeared in print The twenty one pieces collected here ranging from just before the Broadway premiere of A Raisin in the Sun to less than six months before Hansberry's death offer an incredible window into Hansberry's aesthetic and political thought In these conversations Hansberry explores many of the questions most often put to Black writers of the mid twentieth century including everything from her thinking about the relationship between art and protest universality and particularity and realism and naturalism to her sense of the relationship between Black intellectuals and the Black masses integration and Black Nationalism and African American and Pan African liberation Taken together these interviews reveal the insight intensity and eloquence that made Hansberry such a transformative figure in American letters
