Convicting The Innocent Sixty Five Actual Errors Of Criminal Justice:

Convicting the Innocent Edwin M. Borchard, 2010-05-14 My major interests lie in an aspect of the law somewhat remote from criminal law I have nevertheless long urged that the State or community assume the risks of official wrongdoing and error instead of permitting the losses resulting from such fault or mistake to be borne by the injured individual alone Among the most shocking of such injuries and most glaring of injustices are erroneous criminal convictions of innocent people The State must necessarily prosecute persons legitimately suspected of crime but when it is discovered after conviction that the wrong man was condemned the least the State can do to right this essentially irreparable injury is to reimburse the innocent victim by an appropriate indemnity for the loss and damage suffered European countries have long recognized that such indemnity is a public obligation Federal and state governments in the United States ought to adopt the same policy instead of merely releasing the innocent prisoner from custody by pardoning him for a crime he never committed and without any admission of error or public vindication of his character A district attorney in Worcester County Massachusetts a few years ago is reported to have said Innocent men are never convicted Don't worry about it it never happens in the world It is a physical impossibility The present collection of sixty five cases which have been selected from a much larger number is a refutation of this supposition Inasmuch as the conditions described are of interest primarily to the American public American cases mainly from the twentieth century have for the most part 1 been chosen for publication Fifty cases by reason of their importance or some striking characteristic have been used as principal cases the other fifteen more concisely reported follow thereafter Together they present an interesting cross section of American life

Convicting the innocent Edwin Montefiore Borchard, 1961 Convicting the Innocent Edwin Borchard, E. Russell Lutz, 1932 Convicting the Innocent; Sixty-Five Actual Errors of Criminal Justice Edwin Montefiore Borchard, 2012-01 Collection of sixty five cases of erroneous criminal convictions of innocent people the causes of error being due in the main to mistaken identification circumstantial evidence or perjury or some combination of these Includes an analysis of the statutes of European countries providing indemnity for wrongfully convicted and arrested persons to be used as a basis for American legislation

Convicting the Innocent; Sixty-Five Actual Errors of Criminal Justice Edwin Montefiore Borchard, 2015-08-08 The Supreme Court's Actual Innocence Problem Nathan Goetting, 2025-03-20 The author analyzes recent US Supreme Court rulings in all of the areas of constitutional criminal procedure which wrongful convictions scholars generally agree are most flawed in ways that lead to wrongful convictions These problem areas include 1 Eyewitness identification procedures 2 Police interrogations 3 Forensic evidence 4 Informant testimony 5 Indigent defense 6 Prosecutorial Immunity and 7 The rights of inmates to post conviction actual innocence hearings He also explains the terrifying phenomenon of wrongful executions which are inevitable in any nation that tolerates both wrongful convictions and the death penalty This book makes a unique contribution to the literature on wrongful convictions by explaining how the Supreme Court has failed to adequately respond to the data on inmate exonerations since the DNA Revolution in forensic science Even when confronted with recent exoneration data the Supreme Court has continued in every major area where reform is needed to minimize and perpetuate the miscarriages of justice

Wrongful Convictions and Forensic Science Errors John Morgan, 2023-03-29 Forensic Science Errors and Wrongful Convictions Case Studies and Root Causes provides a rigorous and detailed examination of two key issues the continuing problem of wrongful convictions and the role of forensic science in these miscarriages of justice This comprehensive textbook covers the full breadth of the topic It looks at each type of evidence historical factors system issues organizational factors and individual examiners Forensic science errors may arise at any time from crime scene to courtroom Probative evidence may be overlooked at the scene of a crime or the chain of custody may be compromised Police investigators may misuse or ignore forensic evidence A poorly trained examiner may not apply the accepted standards of the discipline or may make unsound interpretations that exceed the limits of generally accepted scientific knowledge In the courtroom the forensic scientist may testify outside the standards of the discipline or fail to present exculpatory results Prosecutors may suppress or mischaracterize evidence and judges may admit testimony that does not conform to rules of evidence All too often the accused will not be afforded an adequate defense especially given the technical complexities of forensic evidence These issues do not arise in a vacuum they result from system issues that are discernable and can be ameliorated Author John Morgan provides a thorough discussion of the policy practice and technical aspects of forensic science errors from a root cause scientific analysis perspective Readers will learn to analyze common issues across cases and jurisdictions perform basic root cause analysis and develop systemic reforms The reader is encouraged to assess cases and issues without regard to preconceived views or prejudicial language As such the book reinforces the need to obtain a clear understanding of errors to properly develop a set of effective scientific procedural and policy reforms to reduce wrongful convictions and improve forensic integrity and reliability Written in a format and style accessible to a broad audience Forensic Science Errors and Wrongful Convictions presents a thorough analysis across all of these issues supported by detailed case studies and a clear understanding of the scientific basis of the forensic disciplines
