The City Is More Than Human Frederick L. Brown,2016-10-03 Winner of the 2017 Virginia Marie Folkins Award Association of King County Historical Organizations AKCHO Winner of the 2017 Hal K Rothman Book Prize Western History Association Seattle would not exist without animals Animals have played a vital role in shaping the city from its founding amid existing indigenous towns in the mid nineteenth century to the livestock friendly town of the late nineteenth century to the pet friendly livestock averse modern city When newcomers first arrived in the 1850s they hastened to assemble the familiar cohort of cattle horses pigs chickens and other animals that defined European agriculture This in turn contributed to the dispossession of the Native residents of the area However just as various animals were used to create a Euro American city the elimination of these same animals from Seattle was key to the creation of the new middle class neighborhoods of the twentieth century As dogs and cats came to symbolize home and family Seattleites relationship with livestock became distant and exploitative demonstrating the deep social contradictions that characterize the modern American metropolis Throughout Seattle s history people have sorted animals into categories and into places as a way of asserting power over animals other people and property In The City Is More Than Human Frederick Brown explores the dynamic troubled relationship humans have with

Mine is predicated on formative years spent cleaning my father's calf pens Just keep shoveling until you've got a pile so big someone has to notice The fact that I cast my life's work as slung manure simply proves that I recognize an apt metaphor when I accidentally stick it with a pitchfork Poetry was my first love my gateway drug still the poets are my favorites but I quickly realized I lacked the chops or insights to survive on verse alone But I wanted to write Every day And so I read everything I could about freelancing and started shoveling The pieces gathered within this book draw on fifteen years of what Michael Perry calls shovel time a writer going to work as the work is offered The range of subjects is wide from musky fishing puking and mountain climbing Iraq War veterans to the frozen head of Ted Williams Some assignments lead to self examination of an alarming magnitude as Perry notes It quickly becomes obvious that I am a self absorbed hypochondriac forever resolving to do better nutritionally and fitness wise but my follow through is laughable But his favorites are those that allow him to turn the lens outward My greatest privilege he says lies not in telling my own story it lies in being trusted to tell the story of another
