

Climate Cultures

Climate Cultures Jessica Barnes, Michael R. Dove, 2015-06-28 Climate change is one of the most pressing issues of our times yet also seemingly intractable This book offers novel insights on this contemporary challenge drawing together the state of the art thinking in anthropology Approaching climate change as a nexus of nature culture science politics and belief the book reveals nuanced ways of understanding the relationships between society and climate science and the state certainty and uncertainty global and local that are manifested in climate change debates The contributors address three major areas of inquiry how climate change issues have been framed in previous times compared to the present how knowledge about climate change and its impacts is produced and interpreted by different groups and how imagination plays a role in shaping conceptions of climate change

Climate Cultures Jessica Barnes, Michael R. Dove, 2015-01-01 Climate change is one of the most pressing issues of our times yet global solutions have proved elusive This book draws together cutting edge anthropological research to uncover new ways of approaching the critical questions that surround climate change Leading anthropologists engage in three major areas of inquiry how climate change issues have been framed in previous times compared to present day discourse how knowledge about climate change and its impacts is produced and interpreted by different groups and how imagination plays a role in shaping conceptions of climate change

Moving Lives - Cultivating with Climate Change in Vanuatu Desirée Hetzel, 2025-05-23 Horticulture in Oceania has been under increasing scrutiny due to climate change and related policies In Vanuatu cultivators navigate crop growth and community life within the context of shifting environments storm events and innovations in climate projects Desirée Hetzel offers new insights into the encounters and dynamics of climate change in this unique island nation by showing the routes around and roads towards gardening as both an environmental and a social practice This reflection on indigenous agency from environmental anthropology and the anthropology of climate change comes at a critical moment of planetary transformation

Science, Society and the Environment Michael R. Dove, Daniel M. Kammen, 2015-04-24 In an era when pressing environmental problems make collaboration across the divide between sciences and arts and humanities essential this book presents the results of a collaborative analysis by an anthropologist and a physicist of four key junctures between science society and environment The first focuses on the systemic bias in science in favour of studying esoteric subjects as distinct from the mundane subjects of everyday life the second is a study of the fire climax grasslands of Southeast Asia especially those dominated by Imperata cylindrica sword grass the third reworks the idea of moral economy applying it to relations between environment and society and the fourth focuses on the evolution of the global discourse of the culpability and responsibility of climate change The volume concludes with the insights of an interdisciplinary perspective for the natural and social science of sustainability It argues that failures of conservation and development must be viewed systemically and that mundane topics are no less complex than the more esoteric subjects of science The book addresses a current blind spot within the academic research community to focusing attention on the seemingly common and mundane beliefs and practices that ultimately play the central role in the human interaction with the environment This book will benefit students and scholars from a number of different academic disciplines including conservation and environment studies development studies studies of global environmental change anthropology geography sociology politics and science and technology studies

Corridors of Power Catherine A. Corson,2016-01-01 H I J K L M N O P Q R S T U V W Y Z A Garland of Bones Jonah Steinberg,2019-01-01 An intimate portrait of India s child runaways and the sociopolitical forces shaping their lives This intimate portrait examines the tracks journeys and experiences of child runaways in northern India Jonah Steinberg situates children s decisions to leave home and flee for the city in their larger cultural social and historical contexts and considers histories of landlessness and debt servitude in narratives of child dislocation The resulting work is an original perspective on the sociological trends in postcolonial India and a unique treatment of a population of individuals who live on the margin of society Contested Territory Christian C. Lentz,2019-04-23 The definitive account of one of the most important battles of the twentieth century and the Black River borderlands transformation into Northwest Vietnam This new work of historical and political geography ventures beyond the conventional framing of the Battle of i n Bi n Ph the 1954 conflict that toppled the French empire in Indochina Tracking a longer period of anticolonial revolution and nation state formation from 1945 to 1960 Christian Lentz argues that a Vietnamese elite constructed territory as a strategic form of rule Engaging newly available archival sources Lentz offers a novel conception of territory as a contingent outcome of spatial contests

Nine-Tenths of the Law Christian Lund,2021-01-05 An exploration of the relationship between possession and legalization across Indonesia and how people navigate dispossession The old aphorism possession is nine tenths of the law is particularly relevant in Indonesia which has seen a string of regime changes and a shifting legal landscape for property claims Ordinary people struggle to legalize their possessions and claim rights in competition with different branches of government as well as police army and private gangs This book explores the relationship between possession and legalization across Indonesia examining the imaginative and improvisational interpretations of law by which Indonesians navigate dispossession

Peppermint Kings Dan Allosso,2020-06-23 An unexplored fascinating history of nineteenth century agrarian life told through the engaging lens of three families central to the peppermint oil industry This unconventional history relates the engaging and unusual stories of three families in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries whose involvement in the peppermint oil industry provides insights into the perspectives and concerns of rural people of their time Challenging the standard paradigms historian Dan Allosso focuses on the rural characters who lived by their own rules and did not acquiesce to contemporary religious doctrines business mores and political expediciencies The Ranneys a secular family in a very religious time and place the Hotchkisses who ran banks and printed their own money while the Lincoln administration was eliminating state banking and the Todd family who incorporated successful business practices with populist socialism all highlight the untold story of rural America's engagement with the capitalist marketplace. The families' atypical attitudes and activities offer unexpected perspectives on rural business and life. Birders of Africa Nancy J. Jacobs, 2016-04-26 In this unique and unprecedented study of birding in Africa, historian Nancy Jacobs reconstructs the collaborations between well-known ornithologists and the largely forgotten guides, hunters, and taxidermists who worked with them. Drawing on ethnography, scientific publications, private archives, and interviews, Jacobs asks: How did white ornithologists both depend on and operate distinctively from African birders? What investment did African birders have in collaborating with ornithologists? By distilling the interactions between European science and African vernacular knowledge, this stunningly illustrated work offers a fascinating examination of the colonial and postcolonial politics of expertise about nature.
