The Relationships Among Teachers' Understanding of Mathematical Functions, a Reform Curriculum, and Teaching Terrence Ross

Wyberg,2002 Mathematics Teachers at Work Janine T. Remillard,Beth A. Herbel-Eisenmann,Gwendolyn M.

Lloyd,2011-09-20 This book compiles and synthesizes existing research on teachers use of mathematics curriculum materials and the impact of curriculum materials on teaching and teachers with a particular emphasis on but not restricted to those materials developed in the 1990s in response to the NCTM's Principles and Standards for School Mathematics Despite the substantial amount of curriculum development activity over the last 15 years and growing scholarly interest in their use the book represents the first compilation of research on teachers and mathematics curriculum materials and the first volume with this focus in any content area in several decades

Topics and Trends in Current Statistics Education Research Gail

Burrill,Dani Ben-Zvi,2018-12-29 This book focuses on international research in statistics education providing a solid understanding of the challenges in learning statistics It presents the teaching and learning of statistics in various contexts including designed settings for young children students in formal schooling tertiary level students and teacher professional development The book describes research on what to teach and platforms for delivering content curriculum strategies on how to teach for deep understanding and includes several chapters on developing conceptual understanding pedagogy and technology teacher knowledge and beliefs and the challenges teachers and students face when they solve statistical problems reasoning and thinking This new research in the field offers critical insights for college instructors classroom teachers curriculum designers researchers in mathematics and statistics education as well as policy makers and newcomers to the field of statistics education Statistics has become one of the key areas of study in the modern world of information and big data The dramatic increase in demand for learning statistics in all disciplines is accompanied by tremendous growth in research in statistics education Increasingly countries are teaching more quantitative reasoning and statistics at lower and lower grade levels within mathematics science and across many content areas Research has revealed the many challenges in helping learners develop statistical literacy reasoning and thinking and new curricula and technology tools show promise in facilitating the achievement of these desired outcomes

Contemporary Mathematics in Context Arthur F.

Coxford,1998 Through investigations of real life contexts students develop a rich understanding of important mathematics that makes sense to them and which in turn enables them to make sense out of new situations and problems Page 1

A Five-Year Study of the First Edition of the Core-Plus Mathematics Curriculum Harold Schoen,Steven W. Ziebarth,Christian R. Hirsch,Allison BrckaLorenz,2010-07-01 The study reported in this volume adds to the growing body of evaluation studies that focus on the use of NSF funded Standards based high school mathematics curricula Most previous evaluations have studied the impact of field test versions of a curriculum Since these innovative curricula were so new at the time of many of these studies students and teachers were relative novices in their use These earlier studies were mainly one year or less in duration Students in the comparison groups were typically from schools in which some classes used a Standards based curriculum and other classes used a conventional curriculum rather than using the Standards based curriculum with all students as curriculum developers intended The volume reports one of the first studies of the efficacy of Standards based mathematics curricula with all of the following characteristics The study focused on fairly stable implementations of a first edition Standards based high school mathematics curriculum that was used by all students in each of three schools It involved students who experienced up to seven years of Standards based mathematics curricula and instruction in middle school and high school It monitored students mathematical achievement beliefs and attitudes for four years of high school and one year after graduation Prior to the study many of the teachers had one or more years of experience teaching the Standards based curriculum and or professional development focusing on how to implement the curriculum well In the study variations in levels of implementation of the curriculum are described and related to student outcomes and teacher behavior variables Item data and all unpublished testing instruments from this study are available at www.wmich.edu/cmp for use as a baseline of instruments and data for future curriculum evaluators or Core Plus Mathematics users who may wish to compare results of new groups of students to those in the present study on common tests or surveys Taken together this volume the supplement at the CPMP Web site and the first edition Core Plus Mathematics curriculum materials samples of which are also available at the Web site serve as a fairly complete description of the nature and impact of an exemplar of first edition NSF funded Standards based high school mathematics curricula as it existed and was implemented with all students in three schools around the turn of the 21st century ENC Focus ,2001
