Producing Desire Dror Ze'evi, 2006-10-16 Publisher description Mastery, Tyranny, and Desire Trevor Burnard, 2004

Eighteenth century Jamaica Britain's largest and most valuable slave owning colony relied on a brutal system of slave management to maintain its tenuous social order Trevor Burnard provides unparalleled insight into Jamaica's vibrant but harsh African Slave Theater in the Roman Republic Amy Richlin, 2017-12-28 Roman comedy evolved early in the war torn 200s BCE Troupes of lower class and slave actors traveled through a militarized landscape full of displaced persons and the newly enslaved together the actors made comedy to address mixed class hybrid multilingual audiences Surveying the whole of the Plautine corpus where slaves are central figures and the extant fragments of early comedy this book is grounded in the history of slavery and integrates theories of resistant speech humor and performance Part I shows how actors joked about what people feared natal alienation beatings sexual abuse hard labor hunger poverty and how street theater forms confronted debt violence and war loss Part II catalogues the onstage expression of what people desired revenge honor free will legal personhood family marriage sex food free speech a way home through memory and manumission or escape all complicated by the actors maleness Comedy starts with anger The Slaves of Liberty Dale Edwyna Smith, 1998-11-01 This study focuses on the lives of the black slave majority in the deep South in the mid 19th century The topics of civil law demographics the role of the church family life plantation economics and gender issues are all revealed through careful study of primary sources previously unexamined by historians The author has meticulously researched newspapers court transcripts county archives church minutes plantation journals and oral histories to produce an astonishingly detailed picture of the lives of blacks and whites during this critical period The readable narrative was nominated for the Allan Nevins Prize for dissertations in American history in 1993 Slavery, Geography and Empire in Nineteenth-Century Marine Landscapes of Montreal and Jamaica Charmaine A. Nelson, 2017-07-05 Slavery Geography and Empire in Nineteenth Century Marine Landscapes of Montreal and Jamaica is among the first Slavery Studies books and the first in Art History to juxtapose temperate and tropical slavery Charmaine A Nelson explores the central role of geography and its racialized representation as landscape art in imperial conquest One could easily assume that nineteenth century Montreal and Jamaica were worlds apart but through her astute examination of marine landscape art the author re connects these two significant British island colonies sites of colonial ports with profound economic and military value Through an analysis of prints illustrated travel books and maps the author exposes the fallacy of their disconnection arguing instead that the separation of these colonies was a retroactive fabrication designed in part to rid Canada of its deeply colonial history as an integral part of Britain's global trading network which enriched the motherland through extensive trade in crops produced by enslaved workers on tropical plantations The first study to explore James Hakewill's Jamaican landscapes and William Clark's Antigua genre studies in depth it also examines the Montreal landscapes of artists including Thomas Davies Robert Sproule George Heriot

and James Duncan Breaking new ground Nelson reveals how gender and race mediated the aesthetic and scientific access of such mainly white male artists She analyzes this moment of deep political crisis for British slave owners between the end of the slave trade in 1807 and complete abolition in 1833 who employed visual culture to imagine spaces free of conflict and to alleviate their pervasive anxiety about slave resistance Nelson explores how vision and cartographic knowledge translated into authority which allowed colonizers to civilize the terrains of the so called New World while belying the oppression of slavery and indigenous displacement Underground Railroad ,1998-02-23 This National Park Service handbook describes the many ways that blacks took to escape slavery in the southern United States before the Civil War It includes stories of famous African American women such as Harriet Tubman who served in the Union Army as a nurse spy and scout and Sojourner Truth who helped recruit black troops for the Union Army Enemies and Familiars Debra Blumenthal,2009 A prominent Mediterranean port located near Islamic territories the city of Valencia in the late fifteenth century boasted a slave population of pronounced religious and ethnic diversity captive Moors and penally enslaved Mudejars Greeks Tartars Russians Circassians and a growing population of black Africans By the end of the fifteenth century black Africans comprised as much as 40 percent of the slave population of Valencia Whereas previous historians of medieval slavery have focused their efforts on defining the legal status of slaves documenting the vagaries of the Mediterranean slave trade or examining slavery within the context of Muslim Christian relations Debra Blumenthal explores the social and human dimensions of slavery in this religiously and ethnically pluralistic society Enemies and Familiars traces the varied experiences of Muslim Eastern and black African slaves from capture to freedom After describing how men women and children were enslaved and brought to the Valencian marketplace this book examines the substance of slaves daily lives how they were sold and who bought them the positions ascribed to them within the household hierarchy the sorts of labor they performed and the ways in which some reclaimed their freedom Scrutinizing a wide array of archival sources including wills contracts as well as hundreds of civil and criminal court cases Blumenthal investigates what it meant to be a slave and what it meant to be a master at a critical moment of transition Arguing that the dynamics of the master slave relationship both reflected and determined contemporary opinions regarding religious ethnic and gender differences Blumenthal s close study of the day to day interactions between masters and their slaves not only reveals that slavery played a central role in identity formation in late medieval Iberia but also offers clues to the development of racialized slavery in the early modern Atlantic world Feminist Theory Josephine Donovan,2000-07-01 This first major study of feminist theory which is revised and completely reset now takes the reader into the twentieth century It chronicles a renaissance of feminist theory through the so called third wave of the present day which follows significant waves of earlier periods the fifteenth through early eighteenth centuries as well as the more widely recognized nineteenth century and the 1960s through the 80s Feminist Theory, Fourth Edition Josephine Donovan,2012-03-08 This first major study of feminist theory revised and updated here in its fourth edition now takes the reader into the twenty first century It addresses the basic question What is feminism by outlining the various strands of feminist theory liberal cultural Marxist socialist Freudian and radical This fourth edition brings the discussion up to date integrating the developments in feminist theory that have emerged in the last two decades such as ecofeminism multiculturalism postmodernism and global feminism including new material since the publication of the third edition 2000
