Jane Yolen, author The Librarian and Book World, 1912 The Dublin Review Nicholas Patrick Wiseman, 1847 The Dublin Review, 1847 Print Culture in Southern Africa Caroline Davis, Archie Dick, Elizabeth le Roux, Dennis Walder, 2021-07-29 Print Culture in Southern Africa is concerned with the institutions and processes informing textual production, circulation and consumption in the region over a broad historical period from the late 18th century to the present day. The book is organised around three closely related themes. Firstly, it presents original research into the formation of reading publics and the impact of reading cultures by uncovering obscure but important reading communities and circuits of book distribution and reception. A second theme is the relationship between print and politics, with a particular focus on the networks of power, how control over the production and circulation of printed books has shaped literary and cultural development. The third theme is transnational print culture and how the control exercised by publishers in Europe and America has shaped literature and society in southern Africa. Drawing together interdisciplinary research and diverse methodologies, the collection encompasses a range of perspectives including literary studies, anthropology, publishing studies, the history of the book and art history, and many of the chapters are based on previously unexamined archives and collections. The volume contributes to current debates and opens up new and exciting ways of furthering the study of postcolonial literature and African book history. The chapters included in this book were originally published in the Journal of Southern African Studies. The Children's Book Business Lissa Paul, 2010-12-14 In The Children's Book Business Lissa Paul constructs a new kind of book biography. By focusing on Eliza Fenwick's 1805 product placement novel Visits to the Juvenile Library in the context of Marjorie Moon's 1990 bibliography Benjamin Tabart's Juvenile Library, Paul explains how twenty-first-century cultural sensibilities are informed by late eighteenth-century attitudes towards children, reading, knowledge and publishing. The thinking, knowing children of the Enlightenment, she argues, are models for present-day technologically connected, socially conscious children; the increasingly obsolete images of Romantic innocent and ignorant children are bracketed between the two periods By drawing on recent scholarship in several fields including book history cultural studies and educational theory The Children's Book Business provides a detailed historical picture of the landscape of some of the trade practices of early publishers and explains how they developed in concert with the progressive pedagogies of several female authors including Eliza Fenwick Mary Wollstonecraft Anna Barbauld Maria Edgeworth and Ann and Jane Taylor Paul's revisionist reading of the history of children's literature will be of interest to scholars working in eighteenth century studies book history childhood studies cultural studies educational history and children's literature Popular Fiction Tony Bennett, 2023-07-14 First published in 1990 Popular Fiction looks at popular fiction in its literary filmic and televisual forms They range across the main genres of popular fiction science fiction soap opera detective fiction the spy thriller the western film noir and comedy Grouped into sections the essays explore major themes in the study of popular fiction the functioning of popular fiction within technologies of cultural regulation the relations between popular fiction and nationalism the connections between popular fictions and relations of power and knowledge and the social and ideological factors moulding both the production and reading of popular fictions Designed especially as a student text this book will be invaluable to students of English and literary studies media studies film and TV studies communication studies and cultural studies
