Reporting on an ambitious three-year ethnographic investigation into how young people live and learn with new media in varied settings at home, in after-school programs, and in online spaces, it presents a flexible and useful framework for understanding the ways that young people engage with and through online platforms: hanging out, messing around, and geeking out. Otherwise known as HOMAGO, integrating twenty-three case studies which include Harry Potter, podcasting, video game playing, music sharing, and online romantic breakups in a unique collaborative authorship style. Hanging Out, Messing Around, and Geeking Out combines in-depth descriptions of specific group dynamics with conceptual analysis. This tenth anniversary edition features a new introduction by Mizuko Ito and Heather Horst that discusses how digital youth culture evolved in the intervening decade and looks at how HOMAGO has been put into practice.
