Comparative Analysis of Deterministic and Nondeterministic Decision Trees Mikhail Moshkov, 2020-03-14 This book compares four parameters of problems in arbitrary information systems complexity of problem representation and complexity of deterministic nondeterministic and strongly nondeterministic decision trees for problem solving Deterministic decision trees are widely used as classifiers as a means of knowledge representation and as algorithms Nondeterministic strongly nondeterministic decision trees can be interpreted as systems of true decision rules that cover all objects objects from one decision class This book develops tools for the study of decision trees including bounds on complexity and algorithms for construction of decision trees for decision tables with many valued decisions It considers two approaches to the investigation of decision trees for problems in information systems local when decision trees can use only attributes from the problem representation and global when decision trees can use arbitrary attributes from the information system For both approaches it describes all possible types of relationships among the four parameters considered and discusses the algorithmic problems related to decision tree optimization The results presented are useful for researchers who apply decision trees and rules to algorithm design and to data analysis especially those working in rough set theory test theory and logical analysis of data This book can also be used as the basis for graduate courses
