Critical Regionalism Architecture And Identity In A Globalised World Architecture In Focus:

Critical Regionalism Liane Lefaivre, Alexander Tzonis, 2003 This richly illustrated and designed book in the Architecture in Focus series reconsiders critical regionalism and demonstrates the global viability of one of the most visible trends in contemporary architecture As globalization increasingly enters every facet of our lives its homogenizing effects on architecture urban spaces and the landscape have compelled architects to embrace the principles of critical regionalism an alternative theory that respects local culture geography and climate In this reexamination of critical regionalism two prominent architectural critics argue for a truce between the seemingly antithetical philosophies of critical regionalism and globalization The authors trace the genesis of critical regionalism to its ancient historical and political roots and focus on its modern expression in the works of Alvar Aalto Richard Neutra Oscar Niemeyer and others They point to the increasing use of the theory in the recent works of a truly global selection of visionary architects including Santiago Calatrava in Spain Renzo Piano in the South Pacific and Berger and Parkkinen in Germany Discussions of Tropical Architecture and contemporary work in Asia round out this important contribution to a topical debate about architecture's role in the world Amazon

Local Spaces in Pakistan Suneela Ahmed, 2022-10-27 This book is set in Karachi Pakistan and investigates the possibility of achieving localness through identifying urban process and their impact on built form addressing how locals associate with the urban spaces and how they value it Thus the investigation using the local terminology maqamiyat goes beyond the physicality of space and develops a framework that helps to understand the social ethnic economic ecological and other the non physical aspects of space which are of value to the locals The aim is to investigate the possibility of achieving localness through identifying urban design elements that can be incorporated into the process of designing new built forms that acknowledges what is valued by the locals instead of superimposing imported designs negating the contextual realities both physical and social For this purpose the book includes three case studies from Karachi The book questions the aspiration of many cities in the South Asian context to imitate the built forms of Western cities increasingly Singapore and Shanghai which are viewed as modern and represents future The book will make a theoretical contribution to the existing literature on postcolonial urbanism and explore space from a local vantage point for understanding how to look inwards for aspiration

Hidden Geographies Marko Krevs, 2021-10-21 This book defines and discusses the term hidden geographies in two ways systematically and by presenting a variety of examples of the research fields and topics concerning hidden geographies with the aim of stimulating further basic and applied research in this area While the term is quite rarely used in the scientific literature more often as a figure of speech than to illustrate or problematize its deeper meaning we argue that hidden geographies are everywhere and many of them have significant impacts on other natural and social phenomena and processes subsequently triggering changes for example in landscape economy culture health or quality of life The introductory section of the book conceptualises hidden geographies and discusses cognitive geography symbolization of space and the hidden geographies in mystical literature Case studies of hidden environmental geographies address soils air pollution coastal pollution and the allocation of an astronomical tourism site Revealing hidden historical and sacred places is illustrated through examples of the visualisation of the subterranean mining landscape the analysis of the historical road network and trade border stones and historical spatial boundaries and the monastic Carthusian space Hidden urban geographies are discussed in terms of the urban development of an entire city presenting the role of geography in rescuing architecture revealing illegal urbanisation and the quality of habitation in Roma neighbourhoods Case studies of hidden population geographies shed light on the ageing of rural populations and the impact of spatial demographic disparities on fertility variations Discussions of hidden social and economic geographies problematize recent social changes and conflicts in a country present the implementation of the fourth industrial revolution and borders as hidden obstacles in the organisation of public transport Hidden geographies are explicitly linked to perceptions and explanations in case studies that address local responses to perceived marginalisation in a city the solo women travellers perceived risk and safety and hidden geographical contexts of visible post war landscapes The book brings such a diversity of views ideas and examples related to hidden geographies that can serve both to deepen their understanding and their various impacts on our lives and environment and to attract further cross disciplinary interest in considering hidden geographies in research and in our every day lives Considering Research Architectural Research Centers Consortium. Constructing Identity in Contemporary Architecture Peter Herrle,Stephanus Schmitz,2009 The global spread of uniform modes of production and cultural values has been accompanied by a dissemination of stereotypes of modern architecture styles almost everywhere around the globe Paradoxically the reverse process has also emerged In some countries the elites feel the necessity to counterbalance the loss of identity and defend their own cultures against the intruding forces of globalization What started as a defensive notion has developed into a more progressive attempt to re create what has allegedly been lost This trend is being strongly expressed in discourses about architecture in countries of the South Who are the actors feeling compelled to construct new identities How are these new identities in architecture created in various parts of the world And which are the ingredients borrowed from various historical and ethnic traditions and other sources These and other questions are discussed in five case studies from different parts of the world written by renowned scholars from Brazil Mexico Egypt India and Singapore
