Crossing Boundaries Tension And Transformation In International Service Learning:

Crossing Boundaries Patrick M. Green, Mathew Johnson, 2023-07-03 Are there better ways to address community challenges than expending funds on international service learning In attempting to wed learning and service are we are exploiting the other for new or recycled aims As these questions attest of all types of service learning international service learning ISL most starkly illuminates the tensions between the liberatory and oppressive potentials of practice This book explores the ramifications of realizing a new age of service learning that pushes beyond single episodic course based projects to rebalance student learning and community outcome priorities and provides insight into what it looks like in its execution In describing eleven international programs designed to achieve reciprocal sustained relationships in which learning is co created the contributors reveal their struggles to change the balance of power relationships and move to a more transformative practice Common themes are the developmental nature of this work the recognition that it takes multiple attempts often over years for an individual or an institution to get this work even nearly right that resolving the challenges of unequal resources power and privilege can never be completely erased and that attention has to be given to the micro level details What emerge are seven guiding principles that define the nature of partnerships in liberatory practice and that apply to all forms of service learning They must be strategic linked to the mission and expertise of the institution long term multifaceted allowing both partners to play a multiplicity of roles developmental in building capacities contextualized in historic and cultural understanding fully reciprocal and create the potential for community driven change In addressing the problematic nature of ISL and of service learning in general this book interrogates whether its experiences create the necessary conditions for the formation of individual values convictions and action and whether their pivotal teaching and learning moments are indeed replicable and transferable across individual institutional and even cultural contexts Its conclusions and insights will be of intense interest to administrators and practitioners alike Crossing Boundaries

Patrick R. Green, 2014 The Wiley International Handbook of Service-Learning for Social Justice Darren E. Lund, 2018-08-17 A comprehensive guide to service learning for social justice written by an international panel of experts The Wiley International Handbook of Service Learning for Social Justice offers a review of recent trends in social justice that have been until recently marginalized in the field of service learning The authors offer a guide for establishing and nurturing social justice in a variety of service learning programs and show that incorporating the principles of social justice in service learning can empower communities to resist and disrupt oppressive power structures and work for solidarity with host and partner communities With contributions from an international panel of experts the Handbook contains a critique of the field's roots in charity a review of the problematization of Whitenormativity paired with the bolstering of diverse voices and perspectives and information on the embrace of emotional elements including tension ambiguity and discomfort This important resource Considers the role of the community in service learning and other community engaged models of education and practice Explores the necessity of disruption and dissonance in service learning Discusses a number of targeted issues that often arise in service learning contexts Offers a practical guide to establishing and nurturing social justice at the heart of an international service learning program Written for advanced undergraduate students graduate students scholars and educators The Wiley International Handbook of Service Learning for Social Justice highlights social justice as a conflict ridden struggle against inequality xenophobia and oppression and offers practical suggestions for incorporating service learning programs in various arenas Global Trends, Dynamics, and Imperatives for Strategic Development in Business Education in an Age of Disruption Zhuplev, Anatoly, Koepp, Robert, 2021-10-22 Over the past two centuries the world's socio economic progression has gone through profound paradigm changes unfolding along four major development stages Higher education has been an important part of this process The accelerated pace of technological socio economic and business innovations as well as ongoing fundamental changes in the real world call for progress in pedagogy While modern universities have adapted in various degrees through information platforms such as Blackboard or Brightspace video conferencing and other technological innovations they still commonly rely on pedagogical ideas and concepts rooted in a thoroughly pre modern era rooted in medieval times Global Trends Dynamics and Imperatives for Strategic Development in Business Education in an Age of Disruption explores the genesis of higher education and its contemporary structure and profile in major global regions and discusses key trends dynamics drivers and developmental imperatives currently shaping business education Covering topics such as business education online education and strategic development this book is essential for teachers managers trainers faculty administrators policymakers researchers academicians and students involved in studies that include industrial economic social urban innovation legal and policy development Research on Student Civic Outcomes in Service Learning Julie A. Hatcher, Robert G. Bringle, Thomas W. Hahn, 2023-07-03 At this time of a renewed call for colleges and universities to create campus cultures that support and develop students understanding and commitment to civic participation what is known about the design of service learning courses and their effectiveness to achieve this goal This volume presents research on and deepens understanding of teaching strategies that foster the knowledge skills and dispositions of college graduates to be actively engaged in their communities as citizens and civic minded professionals The first section offers an overview of civic learning and the importance of intentional service learning course design to reach civic outcomes The next section employs various disciplinary perspectives to identify theories and conceptual frameworks for conducting research on student civic outcomes The third section focuses on research methods and designs to improve research using quantitative and qualitative approaches cross institutional research strategies longitudinal designs authentic data and local and national data sets Chapters also address implications for practice and future research agendas for scholars Human Development and Community Engagement through Service-Learning Ntimi Nikusuma Mtawa, 2019-12-16 This book establishes community engagement and service learning as pathways to advancing human development and common good Using the human development and capability approach as normative frameworks with South Africa as a frame of reference the author investigates the theoretical contributions and ultimate benefits of university community partnerships In doing so this book demonstrates that three interrelated capabilities affiliation common good professionals and local citizenship are developed through community engagement and service learning Subsequently the notion of transformative change through community engagement and service learning is illuminated particularly when operating within the context of power differentials inequality and extreme poverty This book will be of interest and value to students and scholars of service learning and its implications for partnerships between universities and external communities The Cambridge Handbook of Service Learning and Community Engagement Corey Dolgon,Tania D. Mitchell,Timothy K. Eatman,2017-02-01 With contributions from leading experts across disciplinary fields this book explores best practices from the field s most notable researchers as well as important historically based and politically focused challenges to a field whose impact has reached an important crossroads The comprehensive and powerfully critical analysis considers the history of community engagement and service learning best teaching practices and pedagogies engagement across disciplines and current research and policies and contemplates the future of the field The book will not only inform faculty staff and students on ways to improve their work but also suggest a bigger social and political focus for programs intended to seriously establish democracy and social justice in their communities and campuses

Lessons from Cross-Cultural Collaboration Eloise Hockett,John Muhanji,2017-04-12 How should we positively interact with others from all types of backgrounds in ways that acknowledge God s diversity in the world What are effective ways to engage in cross cultural collaboration endeavors that honor and respect the culture of those involved with our efforts The principles of cultural humility beginning with intentional relationship building provide a framework that can guide our cross cultural interactions and partnerships with others both locally and globally in ways that respect both the culture and backgrounds of others In this book Eloise Hockett and John Muhanji share their unique experiences of cross cultural collaboration using the principles of cultural humility primarily in Kenya From Mt Elgon to a village in rural Kenya to working with teachers in schools John and Eloise describe each project through the lens and perspective of an American and a Kenyan Within these narratives Eloise and John also share their journey of how they learned to engage and work with one another and learn from each other John and Eloise believe their collaborative efforts incorporating the themes of cultural humility fully demonstrate how God can work through each person regardless of their cultural background in order to carry out His plan in the world Vietnam's Creativity Agenda Catherine Earl,2024-12-31 This book gathers a diverse set of empirical research chapters from practitioners in the higher education sector in Vietnam to explore the effects of higher education reform on university learning and teaching from the point of view of the classroom educators Through action research reflective practice and other qualitative methods the book investigates the transformations of learning and teaching practice from top down to bottom up teacher centred to student centred curriculum oriented to skills based institutionally directed to partner integrated and co designed approaches In doing so the book challenges a rethinking of Vietnamese higher education It reveals the ingredients for transformative education and calls for educators to be empowered with support resources and trust Drawing on a broad range of disciplinary backgrounds about Vietnam s university reforms it is highly relevant to social anthropologists educational specialists and policymakers working in higher education reform not only in Vietnam and other Southeast Asian contexts but globally

Conflict Zone, Comfort Zone Agnieszka Paczyńska, Susan F. Hirsch, 2019-01-07

By taking students out of their comfort zone field based courses which are increasingly popular in secondary and postsecondary education have the potential to be deep transformative learning experiences But what happens when the field in question is a site of active or recent conflict In Conflict Zone Comfort Zone editors Agnieszka Paczyńska and Susan F. Hirsch highlight new approaches to field based learning in conflict zones worldwide As the contributors demonstrate instructors must leave the comfort zone of traditional pedagogy to meet the challenges of field based education Drawing on case studies in the United States and abroad the contributors address the ethical considerations of learning in conflict zones evaluate the effectiveness of various approaches to teaching these courses and provide guidelines for effecting change They also explore how the challenges of field based classes are magnified in conflict and postconflict settings and outline the dilemmas faced by those seeking to resolve those challenges Finally filling a crucial gap in existing literature the contributors identify best practices that will assist aspiring instructors in developing successful field based courses in conflict zones
