Comprehension Strategic Instruction For K 3 Students:

Comprehension Gretchen Owocki, 2003 Foster children's passion for literature early on. Sustain that passion with strategies that ensure listening and reading comprehension. Find out how in this essential guidebook for primary grade teachers. An expert in the ways young children develop literacy, Gretchen Owocki offers primary teachers just what they need for effective reading comprehension instruction: research-based strategies that enable children to meaningfully connect with text. Owocki bases her book on comprehension strategies that are known to be used by proficient readers: predicting, inferring, purpose setting, retelling, questioning, monitoring, visualizing, connecting, deciding what is important, evaluating. She then puts the strategies into context by providing a framework for comprehension instruction that has proven to be successful in a range of instructional settings. Here you will find practical ideas for supporting comprehension through whole class and small group instruction, literature circles, partner reading, and independent reading. For further help, Owocki includes graphic organizers, evaluation tools, instructional charts, and plentiful examples of the kinds of language that effective teachers use to engage students in talk about books. Read Owocki and feel freshly equipped to provide thoughtful comprehension instruction. And see how these practices greatly enrich not only children's literacy learning but also their experiences in and outside school.

Instructional Strategies for Improving Students' Learning Jerry Carlson, Joel R. Levin, 2012-01-01 The twin objectives of the series Psychological Perspectives on Contemporary Educational Issues are 1) to identify issues in education that are relevant to professional educators and researchers and 2) to address those issues from research and theory in educational psychology, psychology, and related disciplines. The present volume, consisting of two focal chapters, commentaries, and final responses, targets instructional strategies for improving students' learning in two of the traditional three R areas: reading and arithmetic/mathematics in the elementary school grades. The focal chapters in those two skill areas are written by leading contributors to the reading and mathematics research literatures: Cathy Collins Block for the reading section and Douglas Clements and Julie Sarama for the mathematics section. Few would dispute the essentiality of these two curricular domains in laying the foundation for the development of students' competencies in a vast array of academic disciplines in both the in and out of school years that lie ahead. The present volume is intended for practitioners and researchers who are seeking the latest instructional research-based strategies for improving students' early reading and mathematics performance.
