ElSohly,Giuseppe Mandolino,2020-12-29 R Backer provided editorial input and coordinated much of the development of the Research Topic and the editorial activities associated with it She also wrote the first draft of the editorial manuscript and managed the final development of this paper Cannabis Chris Duvall,2014-11-15 Thanks to its best known use any mention of cannabis tends to bring up jokes about the munchies or debates about marijuana and legalized drug use But this not so innocent flowering plant was one of the first to be domesticated by humans and it has been used in spiritual therapeutic and even punitive applications ever since in addition to its more recreational purpose Despite all the hoopla surrounding cannabis however we actually understand relatively little about it in the human and ecological past In Cannabis Chris Duvall explores the botanical and cultural history of one of our most widely distributed crops presenting an even handed look at this heady little plant Providing a global historical geography of cannabis Duvall discusses the manufacture of hemp and its role in rope making clothing and paper as well as cannabis s use as oil and fuel His focus though is on its most prevalent use as a psychoactive drug Without advocating for either the prohibition or legalization of the drug Duvall analyzes a wide range of works to offer a better understanding of both stances and moreover the diversity of human cannabis relationships across the world In doing so he corrects the overly simplistic portrayals of cannabis that have dominated discourse on the subject arguing that we need to understand the big picture in order to improve how the plant is managed worldwide Richly illustrated and highly accessible Cannabis is an essential read to understand the rapidly evolving debate over the legalization of marijuana in the United States and other countries Commodifying Cannabis Bradley J. Borougerdi,2018-11-19 Cannabis is a genetically diverse plant that has been commodified for a variety of different purposes by many cultures throughout world history For thousands of years people have used its fiber seed and flowers to make rope and cloth rig ships feed people and livestock concoct medicines and alter states of consciousness Until the nineteenth century though most Europeans and Americans were unaware of drug varieties of cannabis The British encountered them in India and created western style medicines that sold throughout the Atlantic world by the 1840s but negative associations with Oriental intoxication and degeneracy sullied the plant's reputation as a viable commodity. Now, after decades of transatlantic criminalization policies against cannabis in the twentieth century, it is making a comeback. In Commodifying Cannabis, Bradley J. Borougerdi traces the tangled histories of its use for fiber, medicine, and altered states of consciousness across the Atlantic world, focusing on the dynamic interplay between these three different cultural applications to explain why the plant has transformed so many times throughout history. The historical journey spans a vast geographical landscape and includes over three centuries of source material to illuminate the cultural foundations behind the myriad transformations cannabis has endured as a commodity in the Atlantic world.
