A Cultural History of Furniture in the Age of Exploration Christina M. Anderson, Elizabeth A. Carroll, 2022-02-24 The 16th and 17th centuries in Europe witnessed a significant paradigm shift the exploration so characteristic of the period stemmed from religious motives but came to be propelled by commerce and curiosity as Europeans increasingly engaged with the rest of the world Interiors in both public and private spaces changed to reflect these cultural encounters and with them the furniture with which they were populated Visually furniture of this period displayed new designs forms and materials In its uses it also mirrored developments in science technology government and social relationships as prints became more widely distributed the Wunderkammer developed and there was religious strife and resistance to absolute monarchical rule Drawing upon a wealth of visual and textual sources this volume of A Cultural History of Furniture presents essays that examine key characteristics of the furniture of the period on the themes of design and motifs makers making and materials types and uses the domestic setting the public setting exhibition and display furniture and architecture visual representations and verbal representations

The Globalization of Netherlandish Art, 2024-12-02 Is there a special place for the Low Countries in art history s current debates on global mobility How should we conceive of the globalization of Netherlandish art in the early modern period and in what ways does the distinctively worldly orientation of the Netherlands in this period contribute to early modern visual culture This volume examines how artworks produced in the wake of European expansion art produced in the Netherlands in reaction to the world outside of Europe and art made outside of Europe in reaction to encounters with the Netherlands help us better understand the cultural impacts of globalization

The Dutch Garden in the Seventeenth Century John Dixon Hunt, 1990 In 1988 89 the three hundredth anniversary of an important historical event the ascension of William and Mary to the thrones of England and Scotland was celebrated in the Netherlands the United Kingdom and the United States of America The symposium on Dutch garden art held at Dumbarton Oaks in May 1988 was the only scholarly event during the anniversary year that focused wholly upon gardens This wide ranging collection of essays charts the history scope and spread of Dutch garden art during the seventeenth century A group of scholars mostly Dutch surveys what has been called the golden age of Dutch garden design Essays discuss the political context of William s building and gardening activities at his palace of Het Loo in the Netherlands the development of a distinctively Dutch garden art during the seventeenth century country house poetry and specific estates and their gardens such as those of Johan Maurits van Nassau Siegen at Cleves or Sorgvliet the estate of Hans Willem Bentinck later the Earl of Portland Other contributions concern typical Dutch planting and layouts with a focus upon Jan van der Green s much circulated Den Nederlandtsen Hovenier the designs of Daniel Marot the Huguenot refugee from France who worked for William III in both the Netherlands and England and the attitudes of the English toward Dutch gardening as it was observed in practice and mythologized through the distorting lens of national cooperation and rivalries

Painting and Publishing as Cultural Industries Claartje Rasterhoff, 2025-10-01 The Dutch Republic was a cultural powerhouse in the modern era producing lasting masterpieces in painting and publishing and in the process transforming those fields from modest trades to booming industries This book asks the question of how such a small nation could become such a major player in those fields Claartje Rasterhoff shows how industrial organisations played a role in shaping patterns of growth and innovations As early modern Dutch cultural industries were concentrated geographically highly networked and institutionally embedded they were able to reduce uncertainty in the marketplace and stimulate the commercial and creative potential of painters and publishers though those successes eventually came up against the limits of a saturated domestic market and an aversion to risk on the part of producers that ultimately brought an end to the boom

Early Modern Spaces in Motion Kimberley Skelton, 2025-10-01 Stretching back to antiquity motion had been a key means of designing and describing the physical environment But during the sixteenth through eighteenth centuries individuals across Europe increasingly designed experienced and described a new world of motion one characterized by continuous rather than segmented movement New spaces that included vistas along house interiors and uninterrupted library reading rooms offered open expanses for shaping sequences of social behaviour scientists observed how the Earth rotated around the sun and philosophers attributed emotions to neural vibrations in the human brain Early Modern Spaces in Motion examines this increased emphasis on motion with eight essays encompassing a geographical span of Portugal to German speaking lands and a disciplinary range from architectural history to English It consequently merges longstanding strands of analysis considering people in motion and buildings in motion to explore the cultural historical attitudes underpinning the varied impacts of motion in early modern Europe
