

DARK VANISHINGS

DISCOURSE ON THE EXTINCTION
OF PRIMITIVE RACES, 1800-1930

PATRICK BRANTLINGER

Dark Vanishings Discourse On The Extinction Of Primitive Races 1800 1930

Rebecca Weaver-Hightower

Dark Vanishings Discourse On The Extinction Of Primitive Races 1800 1930:

Dark Vanishings Patrick Brantlinger, 2003-07-24 Brantlinger here examines the commonly held 19th century view that all primitive races around the world were doomed sooner or later to extinction

Health and Difference Alexandra Widmer, Veronika Lipphardt, 2016-09-01 Human variation represented a central research topic for life scientists and posed challenging administrative issues for colonial bureaucrats in the first half of the 20th century By following scientists and administrators interests in innovating styles and tools for making and circulating documents in reshaping landscapes and environments and in fixing distances between humans the book advances new understandings of the materiality of colonial institutional life and governance

The Nature of Endangerment in India Ezra Rashkow, 2023-01-30 This book is a study of the concepts of endangerment and extinction Examining interlinking discourses of biological and cultural diversity loss in western and central India it problematizes the long history of human endangerment and extinction discourse

Social Commentary on State and Society in Modern Japan Yoneyuki Sugita, 2016-08-18 This anthology analyzes societal and cultural aspects of modern Japan It identifies the dynamic trend and undercurrent in Japan by addressing three key areas modernization internationalization and memory and imagination Using interdisciplinary and multi language approaches it discusses topics such as religion ethnicity civil society art public health popular culture war identity and education It is a valuable resource for scholars and graduate students with an interest in cutting edge research analyses of Japanese Asian studies

Race, Science, and the Nation Chris Manias, 2013-06-07 Across the nineteenth century scholars in Britain France and the German lands sought to understand their earliest ancestors the Germanic and Celtic tribes known from classical antiquity and the newly discovered peoples of prehistory New fields philology archeology and anthropology interacted breaking down languages unearthing artifacts measuring skulls and recording the customs of savage analogues This was a decidedly national process disciplines institutionalized on national levels and their findings seen to have deep implications for the origins of the nation and its racial composition However this operated within broader currents The wide spread of material and novelty of the methods meant that these approaches formed connections across Europe and beyond even while national rivalries threatened to tear these networks apart Race Science and the Nation follows this tension offering a simultaneously comparative cross national and multi disciplinary history of the scholarly reconstruction of European prehistory As well as showing how interaction between disciplines was key to their formation it makes arguments of keen relevance to studies of racial thought and nationalism It shows these researches often worked against attempts to present the chaotic multi layered ancient eras as times of mythic origin Instead they argued that the modern nations of Europe were not only diverse but were products of long processes of social development and racial fusion This book therefore brings to light a formerly unstudied motif of nineteenth century national consciousness showing how intellectuals in the era of nation building themselves drove an idea of their nations being constructed from a useable past

Time Travelers Adelene

Buckland, Sadiah Qureshi, 2020-05-11 The Victorians perhaps more than any Britons before them were diggers and sifters of the past Though they were not the first to be fascinated by history the intensity and range of their preoccupations with the past were unprecedented and of lasting importance The Victorians paved the way for our modern disciplines discovered the primeval monsters we now call the dinosaurs and built many of Britain's most important national museums and galleries To a large degree they created the perceptual frameworks through which we continue to understand the past Out of their discoveries new histories emerged giving rise to fresh debates while seemingly well known histories were thrown into confusion by novel tools and methods of scrutiny If in the eighteenth century the study of the past had been the province of a handful of elites new technologies and economic development in the nineteenth century meant that the past in all its brilliant detail was for the first time the property of the many not the few Time Travelers is a book about the myriad ways in which Victorians approached the past offering a vivid picture of the Victorian world and its historical obsessions The Idea of

Development in Africa Corrie Decker, Elisabeth McMahon, 2020-10-29 The Idea of Development in Africa challenges prevailing international development discourses about the continent by tracing the history of ideas practices and problems of development used in Africa In doing so it offers an innovative approach to examining the history and culture of development through the lens of the development episteme which has been foundational to the idea of Africa in western discourses since the early 1800s The study weaves together an historical narrative of how the idea of development emerged with an account of the policies and practices of development in colonial and postcolonial Africa The book highlights four enduring themes in African development including their present day ramifications domesticity education health and industrialization Offering a balance between historical overview and analysis of past and present case studies Elisabeth McMahon and Corrie Decker demonstrate that Africans have always co-opted challenged and reformed the idea of development even as the western centric development episteme presumes a one way flow of ideas and funding from the West to Africa Frontier Fictions

Rebecca Weaver-Hightower, 2018-11-28 This book compares the nineteenth century settler literatures of Australia Canada South Africa and the United States in order to examine how they enable readers to manage guilt accompanying European settlement Reading canonical texts such as Last of the Mohicans and Backwoods of Canada against underanalyzed texts such as Adventures in Canada and George Linton or the First Years of a British Colony it demonstrates how tropes like the settler hero and his indigenous servant the animal hunt the indigenous attack and the lost child cross national boundaries Settlers similarly responded to the stressors of taking another's land through the stories they told about themselves which functioned to defend against uncomfortable feelings of guilt and ambivalence by creating new versions of reality This book traces parallels in 20th and 21st century texts to ultimately argue that contemporary settlers continue to fight similar psychological and cultural battles since settlement is never complete Race and Racism in Modern East Asia Rotem Kowner, Walter Demel, 2012-11-01 Race and Racism in Modern East Asia juxtaposes Western racial constructions of East Asians with constructions of race and their outcomes in modern East Asia This groundbreaking volume also offers an analysis of these constructions their evolution and their interrelations Foucault in an Age of Terror S. Morton, S. Bygrave, 2008-05-29 This book focuses on the relationship between literary culture power society and war It assesses the critical importance of Michel Foucault's lecture series Society Must Be Defended for contemporary debates about war and terror in literary and cultural studies as well as social and political thought
