Desistance Transitions And The Impact Of Probation:

Desistance Transitions and the Impact of Probation Sam King, 2013-10-01 Moving away from criminal behaviour can be fraught with difficulties. Often it can involve leaving behind old habits, customs and even friends while at the same time adopting a new way of life. How do individuals go about making a decision to give up crime? How do they plan to sustain this decision? And in what ways does probation help? This book explores these questions. Based on in-depth interviews with a group of men under probation supervision, Sam King investigates the factors associated with making a decision to desist from crime. The book examines strategies for desistance and explores the factors that individuals consider when they are thinking about how they will desist. In doing so, the book sheds new light on existing understandings of desistance from crime and helps to develop our understandings of the role that individuals play in constructing their own desistance journeys. This book also highlights the role of probation in this process, offering a timely and critical review of the nature of probation under the New Labour government in the UK between 1997-2010. The findings indicate that we should allow Probation Officers greater autonomy and discretion within their roles and that we should free them from the bureaucracy of risk assessment and targets. Moreover, the book warns against the potential fragmentation of community supervision. As such, the book will be of interest to criminology students, researchers, academics, policymakers and practitioners, particularly those who work with ex-offenders in the community. Going Straight on Probation Samuel Joshua King, 2010

Youth Desistance in Transition

Christopher Kay, 2025-10-20 This book offers a new and innovative way of thinking about desistance from crime, fusing our understanding of desistance transitions, youth transitions and the impact of significant policy change on people with convictions in a way which is yet to be seen in the available desistance literature. It offers a critical account of the ways in which young adults move away from involvement in crime while also navigating the numerous personal, social and structural transitions that characterise late adolescence. By exploring the desistance narratives of young adult men under community supervision in England and Wales during the partial privatisation of the probation service, the book demonstrates the immediate impact of significant criminal justice policy change on those on the receiving end of such change. Given the expansion of neoliberal ideas in criminal justice and the ever-changing nature of criminal justice policy across the world, it is vital that we develop a critical understanding of the impact of these changes upon the often overlooked people on the receiving end of them if we are to understand how such changes can be successful. This book provides the first of such discussions, charting the ways in which people with convictions navigate seemingly all-encompassing change to lead a life free from crime. Youth Desistance in Transition will be of interest to students and scholars of criminology and criminal justice, particularly those focused on understanding desistance pathways. It will also appeal to policymakers and social workers involved with youth justice and rehabilitation. Comparing Pathways of Desistance Ruwani Fernando, 2024-03-12 This book presents a comparative study of desistance from crime by analysing and comparing the narratives of English and French desisters. In doing so it uncovers how national and structural differences may lead to varying individual pathways out of crime Comparing Pathways of Desistance draws on the themes of family education onset of offending employment offending experiences and perspectives of the criminal justice system stories of desistance support networks and projections into the future In addition this book also explores topics that are less commonly looked at in desistance studies such as ambitions of entrepreneurship and leisure activities It examines the ways in which people make sense of their experiences of offending and desisting identifies differences and similarities between English and French desisters and reflects on how these differences and similarities inform us on the influences of national contexts on individual pathways of desistance An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology desistance politics social policy and all those interested in the differences between English and French desisters

Life Beyond Murder Dan Gabriel Rusu, 2024-11-18 Detailing the resettlement narratives of five men who have committed different types of murder confrontational revenge financial gain random intimate partner femicide and family feud this book counters narratives of neoliberal responsabilizing messages of individualism to investigate what informs their experiences of resettlement Life Beyond Murder Exploring the Identity Reconstruction of Mandatory Lifers After Release explores the impact of mandatory lifers institutionalisation families consumer culture emotions and supervision considering how these factors hamper or assist with their transition from the stigmatising identity of being dangerous murderers The book's discussion is guided by the men's narratives employing a tug of war metaphor to elucidate the push pull forces that influence the men's efforts to reconstruct their lives in the years following their release To be successful the book argues these men have to reconcile a paradoxical situation and the most skilled mandatory lifers manage to relativise their involvement in murder whilst concomitantly showing remorse This situation is achieved through a Splitting Narrative that ultimately defends against anxiety contains internal stigma and often showcases self flagellant remorse as they move towards positive social identities such as philanthropists family men wounded healers and pious members of the church

Innovative Justice Hannah Graham, Rob White, 2014-07-17 This book showcases innovative justice initiatives from around the world which engage offenders practitioners and communities to reduce reoffending and support desistance and positive change It is groundbreaking in bringing together inspiring ideas and pioneering practices to analyse how justice done differently is making a difference The voices and experiences of the people at the forefront of these innovative initiatives are presented throughout the book including offenders corrections staff and directors the judiciary scientists and academics volunteers and community organisations Strengths based research methods are used to investigate and celebrate best practices and good news stories from the field The authors raise critical questions about what is considered innovative and effective for whom and in what context presenting their own conceptual approach for analysing innovation With initiatives drawn from diverse jurisdictions and cultures including the UK Europe Australia Asia the US and South America this book showcases original ideas and refreshing developments that have the potential to transform rehabilitation and reintegration practices The book's substance and style will resonate with practitioners students and academics across the interdisciplinary fields of criminology and criminal justice

Moving on From Crime and Substance Use Anne Robinson, Paula Hamilton, 2016-09-21 Desistance is a hot topic of the criminological world but while research suggests that as offenders turn their backs on crime they often change their behavior and their sense of identity we know relatively little about how this reforming or transforming of identity might be affected by gender age or ethnicity Showcasing international research from a wide range of contributors in the field this book investigates the roles played by these various diversity issues during desistance By considering similarities and differences between desisting from crime and recovering from addiction it pushes the desistance and recovery debates in novel directions offering unique insight into experiences of change and transformation among individuals who are seeking healthier and more successful futures

Spaces of Care Loraine Gelsthorpe, Perveez Mody, Brian Sloan, 2020-04-16 The collection examines the ways in which the emerging interdisciplinary study of care provokes a reassessment of the connections and disjuncture between care and governance ethics and public personal and professional identities Evolving from a project coordinated by the Cambridge Socio Legal Group Spaces of Care brings together leading international scholars to articulate what we may consider to be a useful analytic of care Lawyers anthropologists sociologists and criminologists reflect on specific aspects of conceptualising caring relations in spaces These spaces include communities of care and abandonment self care and kinship care spaces as gaps in care the meanings of marketised care and the ways in which care is constructed and constrained in different ways in venues such as homes prisons workplaces and virtual spaces Common themes include temporality historical specificity and the dynamics of care across time and place subjectivity including different experiences of care the economies of care including the commodification of care public and private manifestations of care privatised care disruptions of care which generate vulnerabilities with regard to continuities of care eligibility those deemed to be deserving and undeserving of care relationalities of care collective and individual agency in caring relations kinship care and technologies and imaginaries of care as in new notions of care forged by those in online virtual worlds such as Second Life

The Routledge International Handbook of Life-Course Criminology Arjan Blokland, Victor van der Geest, 2017-03-16 Since its introduction in the latter half of the 1980s the meticulous study of distinct criminal career dimensions like onset frequency and crime mix has yielded a wealth of information on the way crime develops over the life span Policymakers in turn have used this information in their efforts to tailor criminal justice interventions to be both effective and efficient Life course criminology studies the ways in which the criminal career is embedded in the totality of the individual life course and seeks to clarify the causal mechanisms governing this process The Routledge International Handbook of Life Course Criminology provides an authoritative collection of international theoretical and empirical research into the way that criminal behavior develops over the life span which causal mechanisms are involved in shaping this development and to what degree criminal justice interventions are successful in redirecting offenders criminal trajectories Drawing upon qualitative and quantitative research this handbook covers theory describes and compares criminal career patterns across different countries tests current explanations of criminal development and using cutting edge methods assesses the intended and unintended effects of formal interventions This book is the first of its kind to offer a comprehensive overview of state of the art developments in criminal career and life course research providing unique perspectives and exclusive local knowledge from over 50 international scholars This book is an ideal companion for teachers and researchers engaged in the field of developmental and life course criminology

Positive Growth and Redemption in Prison Lila Kazemian, 2019-10-10 Although the negative consequences of rising incarceration rates have been well established criminological research has largely neglected to document psychological social and behavioral changes that occur during periods of incarceration Drawing on an original longitudinal study of long term French prisoners this book examines the process of desistance from crime and positive growth in prison It offers reflections on how personal transformation can be achieved in prison particularly among individuals serving long prison sentences This research investigates the barriers to achieving positive growth in prison as well as the different ways in which transformation can occur behind bars It also conceptualizes the process of abandoning crime in prison and sheds light on the cognitive social and structural factors that may trigger accelerate or hamper this process This book explores the circumstances under which individuals can thrive in prison and identifies key features of the narratives of prisoners who have achieved positive growth The research presented in this book also examines the intricacies of returning to society after a lengthy period of time in prison Written in a clear and accessible style this book will be invaluable reading for those engaged in studies of criminology and criminal justice sociology criminal behavior prisons and penology It is also aimed at a variety of audiences including academics practitioners policy makers and prisoners
