Rebuilding Communities in an Age of Individualism Paul Hopper, 2017-07-05 As modern societies become increasingly individualistic this fascinating book examines how we can maintain and revive local communities and community life It demonstrates how the major developments and processes of our time notably globalization post-industrialism and de-traditionalization contribute to this individualism to the detriment of community life The author examines how community is a necessary and important component of human life and discusses possible ways in which to arrest its decline In this regard strategies geared to fostering trust and social capital are outlined as the basis for reinvigorating community life The volume provides a coherent and distinct analysis of community as well as offering concrete policy prescriptions to counter the excessive individualism of our times In both the nature and scope of its analysis it offers a unique contribution to an extremely important issue in the contemporary period one that increasingly preoccupies politicians academics and ordinary citizens

Citizenship, Nation-building and Identity in the EU Cherry James, 2018-12-17 With Brexit looming a major issue facing UK Higher Education is whether the UK will be able to stay in the Erasmus Programme This book sits at the intersection of three main interrelated themes EU citizenship the current state of the university in Europe and student mobility as they play out in the context of an EU funded programme established not least to promote European identity European consciousness and European citizenship Exploring through interviews with students from many countries this book weaves together the themes of citizenship creation as a device for building a nation and a polity the university as a public space in the era of the marketization of higher education and communicative interaction as the mechanism by which citizenship is created Ultimately it asks if the building bricks of national citizenship can be transposed to the transnational scale and assist in creating the transnational EU citizenship It finds surprisingly that far from encouraging and facilitating the communicative interaction on which the development of EU citizenship was postulated central features of the Erasmus Programme inadvertently work against this outcome This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU law and European and EU studies Citizenship Studies sociology and more broadly to higher education in general

The New Relationship between the United Kingdom and the European Union Emmanuel Guinchard, Carlo Panara, 2025-03-29 Brexit has reshuffled the cards of the relationship between the United Kingdom and the European Union It is a one in a lifetime event which ended nearly 50 years of EU Membership EU law as such no longer applies in the United Kingdom and British citizens and companies no longer benefit from its advantages Part of the previous regime has however been maintained at times with amendments through the series of treaties negotiated between the UK and the EU in 2019 and 2020 in particular the Trade and Cooperation Agreement of 2020 to which the 2023 Windsor Agreement can be added The end result is a legal regime which is perhaps even more complex than EU law itself This book aims to provide the reader with a clarification of this legal regime as well as provide context to it and suggestions to improve it All key topics are covered such as citizens of the EU in the UK and British citizens in the EU trade in goods and in services criminal justice public procurement Northern Ireland the UK overseas territories the dispute settlement security and defence international trade agreements of the UK post Brexit environmental protection European civil justice financial services education and research and the European offices of the UK local authorities and devolved administrations after Brexit All the chapters follow wherever possible the same triadic structure The first part looks at the regime prior to Brexit the second part analyses the current regime and the third part discusses ongoing and predictable trends The concluding chapter attempts to identify some themes likely to impact on the forthcoming preparation of the 2026 review

The Concept of Proportionality in Public Law CHUNG Wai Man, Franco, 2020-06-30 Proportionality is a German and thus continental European concept in public law that is applied by both the Court of Justice of the European Union CJEU and the European Court of Human Rights ECtHR The principle specifies that measures adopted by executive authorities should not exceed the limits of what is appropriate and necessary in order to achieve legitimate objectives in the interest of the public Using a functional comparative approach this book evaluates the extent to which proportionality has been integrated into the English and Hong Kong judicial systems by comparing case law in these courts with that of the CJEU and the ECtHR The text also reviews the development of proportionality and presents a topical understanding of why its adoption and application have encountered difficulties particularly regarding socio economic rights in some jurisdictions such as the United Kingdom and Hong Kong Written by a scholar with experience from both within the Hong Kong judicial system and from international research this book is the first all encompassing reference for legal practitioners worldwide The Force of Comparison Willibald Steinmetz, 2019-09-01 In an era defined by daily polls institutional rankings and other forms of social quantification it can be easy to forget that comparison has a long historical lineage Presenting a range of multidisciplinary perspectives this volume investigates the concepts and practices of comparison from the early modern period to the present Each chapter demonstrates how comparison has helped to drive the seemingly irresistible dynamism of the modern world exploring how comparatively minded assessors determine their units of analysis the criteria they select or ignore and just who it is that makes use of these comparisons and to what ends Ten Neglected Classics of Philosophy Eric Schliesser, 2017 What makes for a philosophical classic Why do some philosophical works persist over time while others do not The philosophical canon and diversity are topics of major debate today This stimulating volume contains ten new essays by accomplished philosophers writing passionately about works in the history of philosophy that they feel were unjustly neglected or ignored and why they deserve greater attention The essays cover lesser known works by famous thinkers as well as works that were once famous but now only faintly remembered Works examined include Gorgias Encomium of Helen Jane Adams Women and Public Housekeeping W E B DuBois Whither Now and Why Edith Stein s On the Problem of Empathy Jonathan Bennett s Rationality and more While each chapter is an expression of engagement with an individual work the volume as a whole and Eric Schliesser s introduction specifically address timely questions about the nature of philosophy disciplinary contours and the vagaries of canon formation European Social Policy and Social Work Hans van Ewijk, 2009-09-10 European Social Policy and Social Work explores shifts in international social policies and how they affect national trends and thus the context for social work practice The book discusses international and national social work strategies and practice and investigates the responsibilities for social welfare held by the state the market and civil society Hans van Ewijk then elaborates a new concept of citizenship based social work which supports and encourages self responsibility social responsibility and the implementation of social rights The main themes covered are international social policy and social work from welfare to workfare citizenship essentials of citizenship based social work community policy and community work social work and alternative areas of activity such as youth care and social care Integrating different roots and social professions in an overarching new concept this book particularly looks at European Union countries Hans van Ewijk examines debates regarding social work as an internationally recognised profession and science This book is suitable for social work students academics and professionals with an interest in social policy and international social work
