City Politics 8th Edition Judd Swanstrom :

American Cities and the Politics of Party Conventions Eric S. Heberlig, Suzanne M. Leland, David Swindell, 2017-01-01 Uncovers the politics involved when a city recruits and implements a presidential convention Political party conventions have lost much of their original political nature serving now primarily as elaborate infomercials while ratifying the decisions made by voters in state primaries and caucuses While this activity hasn't changed significantly since the 1970s conventions themselves have changed significantly in terms of how they are recruited implemented and paid for American Cities and the Politics of Party Conventions analyzes how and why cities advance through the site selection process Just as parties use conventions to communicate their policies unity and competence to the electorate cities use the convention selection process to communicate their merits to political parties businesses and residents While hosting such a mega event provides some direct economic stimulus for host cities the major benefit of the convention is the opportunity it provides for branding and signaling status Combining a case studies approach as well as interviews with party and local officials Eric S Heberlig Suzanne M Leland and David Swindell bring party convention scholarship up to date while highlighting the costs and benefits of hosting such events for tourism bureaus city administrators elected officials and the citizens they represent

Governing Metropolitan Areas David K. Hamilton, 2014-04-24 Interest and research on regionalism has soared in the last decade Local governments in metropolitan areas and civic organizations are increasingly engaged in cooperative and collaborative public policy efforts to solve problems that stretch across urban centers and their surrounding suburbs Yet there remains scant attention in textbooks to the issues that arise in trying to address metropolitan governance Governing Metropolitan Areas describes and analyzes structure to understand the how and why of regionalism in our global age The book covers governmental institutions and their evolution to governance but with a continual focus on institutions David Hamilton provides the necessary comprehensive in depth description and analysis of how metropolitan areas and governments within metropolitan areas developed efforts to restructure and combine local governments and governance within the polycentric urban region This second edition is a major revision to update the scholarship and current thinking on regional governance While the text still provides background on the historical development and growth of urban areas and governments efforts to accommodate the growth of metropolitan areas this edition also focuses on current efforts to provide governance through cooperative and collaborative solutions There is also now extended treatment of how regional governance outside the United States has evolved and how other countries are approaching regional governance

The Dynamic Social Contract: An American Case Study Andre Smith, 2023-05-09 This book continues an exploration begun by Charles Mills and Carole Pateman with their examinations of the nuisances of the Western social contract The work examines the social contract within the variable of space or proximity and incorporates concepts first proposed by Benedict Anderson that of concepts of shared communal belonging or imagined The social contract is explored as a dynamic sociopolitical instrument that is influenced by the context of human interactions specifically space Space or proximity exists as a variable either increasing interactions and challenging sociopolitical norms or decreasing interactions and reinforcing sociopolitical norms We can trace proximity within a sociopolitical model with connections becoming more and more abstract as proximity increases and group membership becomes more abstract global global region nation religion ethnicity national region city town village and kin We accept that kinship or hereditary connections are the most atomistic And within this tree of proximity as proximity increases the ties of group membership become more tenuous and the incentive of collective action decreases production is the binding glue of the world economic system and the framework of the study but it is within the bounds of the productive system that the challenge of proximity and membership collide The collision occurs as the proximity of production increases and the reaction is a dynamic response within the social contract witnessed as a retraction

Term Limits and the Modern Era of Municipal Reform Douglas Cantor, 2024-06-03 Term limits enjoy broad popularity among Americans yet scholarly literature has omitted two important questions from the study of municipal reform Why are term limits so popular and what are the causes of movements for term limits In this book Douglas Cantor exposes the causes of term limits at the local level of government to shed light on how and why the movement to adopt term limits came to exist Cantor begins his analysis by providing a history of term limits beginning with classical debates in Greek philosophy He describes the benefits of studying the causes of term limits and how term limits are a direct manifestation of older values rooted in the American traditions of municipal reform Part II examines 20 different municipalities across the continental United States that experienced a movement to implement term limits through a political campaign voter initiative or council led charter amendment Written to a common template and examining each case through the lens of the reform impulse Cantor argues that the institutional lineage of the Progressives namely council manager governments at large elections and nonpartisanship is largely responsible for movements to implement term limits somewhere in the United States in almost every election Term Limits and the Modern Era of Municipal Reform brings a new dimension to the Progressive era championing the study of local politics and its importance to understanding American politics
