It is approximately 400 m. in the summit and the three-part ridge located in the North-East and the Northwest of the ridge. The ridge has three distinct peaks, including the middle of the ridge and the highest peak. The ridge is located in the North-East of the ridge and the highest peak is located in the North-East of the ridge.

*This work concerned the high-throughput screening of short-segmented oligos, which, besides some specific features, resembles more a random library. Consequently, some selected sequences (e.g. 5'-GGG-3') are present, which probably do not exist in the natural DNA. This is because of the fact that the oligonucleotide library is generated by using degenerate, and not some kind of specific, primers. The oligonucleotide library is not a random library.
