Becoming an African Diaspora in Australia F. Ndhlovu, 2014-07-08 Becoming an African Diaspora in Australia extends debates on identities cultures and notions of race and racism into new directions as it analyses the forms of interactional identities of African migrants in Australia It de naturalises the commonplace assumptions and imaginations about the cultures and identities of African diaspora communities and probes the relevance and usefulness of identity markers such as country of origin nationality ethnicity ethnic heritage language and mother tongue Current cultural frames of identity representation have so far failed to capture the complexities of everyday lived experiences of transnational individuals and groups Therefore by drawing on fresh concepts and recent empirical evidence this book invites the reader to revisit and rethink the vocabularies that we use to look at identity categories such as race culture language ethnicity nationality and citizenship and introduces a new language nesting model of diaspora identity This book will be of great interest to all students of migration diaspora African and Australian studies The Code of Federal Regulations of the United States of America, 2007 The Code of Federal Regulations is the codification of the general and permanent rules published in the Federal Register by the executive departments and agencies of the Federal Government

Language Policies and (Dis)Citizenship Vaidehi Ramanathan, 2013-08-07 This volume explores the concept of citizenship and argues that it should be understood both as a process of becoming and the ability to participate fully rather than as a status that can be inherited acquired or achieved From a courtroom in Bulawayo to a nursery in Birmingham the authors use local contexts to foreground how the vulnerable particularly those from minority language backgrounds continue to be excluded whilst offering a powerful demonstration of the potential for change offered by individual agency resistance and struggle In addressing questions such as under what local conditions does dis citizenship happen what role do language policies and pedagogic practices play and what kinds of margins and borders keep humans from fully participating The chapters in this volume shift the debate away from visas and passports to more uncertain and
