City Of Ekurhuleni General Post:

Urban Inclusivity in Southern Africa Hangwelani H. Magidimisha-Chipungu, Lovemore Chipungu, 2021-09-28 This book's point of departure rests on the premises that dimensions of the mainstream inclusive city discourse fail to capture in detail vulnerable clusters of society being women children and the aging the minority clusters i.e. the blind the disabled and migrants In addition it fails to recognize the increase of spatial inequality driven by racial and class differences a factor that has seen an increase in community violence and protests The focus on spatial inequality has for a long time blind folded urban authorities to ignore exclusion arising out of the same environments created with a notion of creating inclusivity Hence this book collapses spatial walls as it seeks to uncover the true perspectives of inclusivity in cities beyond spatial dimensions but within social realms The depth of this book's enquiry rests on its critical investigation of Southern African cities through historical epochs of apartheid and colonialism in the region

Contemporary Issues on Governance, Conflict and Security in Africa Adeoye O. Akinola, 2023-05-25 This edited volume reflects on some of the important discussions on the trends of governance conflict and security in Africa It explores some of the emerging concerns and offers a holistic understanding of the remote and immediate causes of the conflict and how the neo colonial African states have been structured in a manner that makes violent conflict inevitable The book thereby provides an overview of Africa's security challenges and proffers some sustainable policy options for curtailing lawlessness and armed conflict on the continent Literature is exhaustive about the nexus between governance peace and security however discourse on the impact of new conflict on governance has been scant Understanding these new trends has become a necessity and precondition for sustainable development as reflected in both the African Union AU Agenda 2063 and the United Nations UN Sustainable Development Goals SDGs

Gaffney's Local Government in South Africa, 2009

Enhancing Democracy With Coalition Governments and Politics Tshishonga, Ndwakhulu Stephen, 2024-05-20 Political coalition formation is a global strategy employed by leaders and parties in their pursuit of power This practice takes on particular significance in post colonial Africa where coalition governments have emerged as responses to challenges faced by the electoral base of liberation parties In countries like Congo Kinshasa Zimbabwe Nigeria Mauritius South Africa and the Kingdom of Lesotho coalition politics serves as a model for conflict resolution and democratic governance Enhancing Democracy With Coalition Governments and Politics delves into this complex landscape thoroughly investigating the pivotal role of coalition governments formed both before and after elections It sheds light on the challenges posed to dominant liberation movements and the urgent need for a radical agenda to address corruption maladministration and the abuse of political power The book focuses on Africa's pursuit of sound electoral democracy and democratic governance Enhancing Democracy With Coalition Governments and Politics aims to conceptually understand coalition governments trace their historical evolution in Africa interrogate the triggers for coalition formation assess their impact on electoral democracy and explore coalition politics at both local and national levels By providing theoretical and empirical insights the book equips policymakers practitioners scholars and researchers in the fields of Politics Sociology Public Administration and Development Studies with tools to comprehend form manage and sustain political coalitions as vehicles for democratic governance Remedies for Human Rights Violations Kent Roach,2021-04-08 An innovative book that provides fresh insights into the neglected field of remedies in both international and domestic human rights law Providing an overarching two track theory it combines remedies to compensate and prevent irreparable harm to litigants with a more dialogic approach to systemic remedies It breaks new ground by demonstrating how proportionality principles can improve remedial decision making and avoid reliance on either strong discretion or inflexible rules It draws on the latest jurisprudence from the European and Inter American Courts of Human Rights and domestic courts in Australia Canada India New Zealand Hong Kong South Africa the United Kingdom and the United States Separate chapters are devoted to interim remedies remedies for laws that violate human rights damages remedies in the criminal process declarations and injunctions in institutional cases remedies for violations of social and economic rights and remedies for violations of Indigenous rights Governing Complex City-Regions in the Twenty-First Century Philip Harrison,2023-11-10 Provides a comparative study of the complex governance challenges confronting city regions in each of the BRICS countries It traces how governance approaches emerge from the disparate intentions actions and practices of multiple collaborating and competing actors working in diverse contexts of political settlement and culture Atlas of Informal Settlement Kim Dovey,Matthijs van Oostrum,Tanzil Shafique,Ishita Chatterjee,Elek Pafka,2023-09-07 While often seen as unplanned or spontaneous informal settlement is better understood as a mode of production a co evolution of architecture urban design and planning that embodies informal rules and shapes urban development The Atlas of Informal Settlement is a comparative study of the spatial logic of informal settlement based on mapping and analysing the evolution of urban form morphogenesis in 51 contemporary settlements across the planet the first of its kind and a fundamental change in thinking for urban studies and built environment professionals Each of the 51 case studies uses maps and aerial photographs to examine key stages of development showing how informal settlement adapts to different contexts of political economy topography culture climate and land tenure revealing a complex range of actors from settlers and states to land mafias and pirate developers It demonstrates the range of design processes and formal outcomes how the informal becomes formalized and vice versa Interspersed with short chapters introducing key theoretical concepts the Atlas shows how such practices may or may not produce slums and how settlement is already a form of upgrading Informal settlement is the primary mode of production of affordable housing and neighbourhood infrastructure within cities of the Global South with detailed mapping and profiling of 51 settlements this book shows how such urban morphologies emerge in terms of architecture urban design and planning The Making of Global City Regions Klaus Segbers,Simon Raiser,Krister Volkmann,2007 Publisher description Data Power in Action Ola Söderström,Ayona

Datta,2023-12-21 EPDF and EPUB available Open Access under CC BY NC ND licence Drawing on the study of different cities in the Global South this book explores how the intensive use of data changes politics power relations and everyday life in contemporary cities Across the volume expert contributors show how urban actors from the state to activists are increasingly using data as a resource to empower their actions and support their claims while also demonstrating how times of crisis are moments when the power of data is made visible Focusing on the different dimensions of data power and politics in the urban realm this is an important contribution to our understanding of how datafication transforms the places in which we live and how we experience them Manipulating Political Decentralisation Lovise Aalen,Ragnhild L.

Muriaas,2017-10-12 Can autocrats establish representative subnational governments And which strategies of manipulation are available if they would like to reduce the uncertainty caused by introducing political decentralisation In the wake of local government reforms several states across the world have introduced legislation that provides for subnational elections This does not mean that representative subnational governments in these countries are all of a certain standard Political decentralisation should not be confused with democratisation as the process is likely to be manipulated in ways that do not produce meaningful avenues for political participation and contestation locally Using examples from Africa Lovise Aalen and Ragnhild L Muriaas propose five requirements for representative subnational governments and four strategies that national governments might use to manipulate the outcome of political decentralisation The case studies of Ethiopia Malawi South Africa and Uganda illustrate why autocrats sometimes are more open to competition at the subnational level than democrats Manipulating Political Decentralisation provides a new conceptual tool to assess representative subnational governments quality aiding us in building theories on the consequences of political decentralisation on democratisation
