

Lesson 1: What is Theatre?/Observation

OBJECTIVE: Students will demonstrate the understanding that theatre is the art of telling stories through acting, and how observing the world around you is a first step to becoming a great actor.

MATERIALS:

- Large writing surface (dry erase board/chart paper)
- A bowl with slips of paper that have different emotions written on them (see list on page 7)

I recommend beginning each session with a few words about what the goal/plan is for the day, then immediately jumping into a warm-up activity. Especially with young kids, it's important to get them moving and engaged as soon as possible.

GREETING: Greet the students, introduce a little bit about yourself, then immediately begin the warm-up.

WARM-UP: Drama Game: Stop, Go, Jump!

- Tell the students to take the stage. (From this point on "stage" will refer to any open playing area.)
- When you say GO, they are to walk around the stage trying to fill up all the space, not leaving any gaps.
- When you say STOP they should stop. Try this out a few times.
- When you say CLAP they should clap, when you say JUMP they should jump. Try this out a few times, then mix it in with GO and STOP.
- When you say KNEES they should bend to put their hands on their knees, when you say SKY they should reach up toward the sky. Try this out, mixing it in with the previous commands.
- After they've gotten the hang of this, kick it up to Level 2. They are now to do everything in exact opposite. STOP means GO, GO means STOP, CLAP means JUMP, JUMP means CLAP, KNEES means SKY, SKY means KNEES.
- Try out this new level for awhile, slowly at first, then getting increasingly faster.
- Finally, kick it up to Level 3. You, the instructor, will be doing the actions literally as you say them, however the students should continue doing the exact opposite.
- Gather the students into a circle to reflect:
 - Why do you think we played this game? What skills were we working on?
 - As an actor, you're going to be required to do things that sometimes feels unnatural, to step outside your comfort zone, and to always be focused and listening for direction. This helps prepare us for that.

EXPLORATION: What is theatre? What makes a good actor?

- Ask the students if they can describe what theatre is.
 - How is it different than reading a book?
 - How is it different than watching a movie?

Have the students seated for this next activity. The best time to have the students seated to explore a new concept or idea is immediately following the warm-up activity.

Daily Theater Lesson Plans For High School:

Theatre in the Secondary School Classroom Jim Patterson, Donna McKenna-Crook, Melissa Swick Ellington, 2015-11-23 If you're a preservice teacher planning to teach the theatre arts or an in-service secondary teacher considering a foray into teaching theatre or a theatre professional considering the classroom there's a lot to learn. But you don't have to know everything to teach well from the start; you just need Theatre in the Secondary School Classroom. Theatre in the Secondary School Classroom is the trusty guide that every new theatre teacher will be grateful to have as a ready reference. It's not an encyclopedia on secondary theatre but a collection of musts that every beginning instructor needs to know. Theoretical, practical, and friendly, Theatre in the Secondary School Classroom introduces key instructional methods and successful strategies and works through the problems of practice that face all instructors regardless of their experience. With discussions of finding appropriate spaces, both personal and physical, assessing students' learning, encouraging involvement, and more, you'll find the crucial information you need to hit the ground running. Patterson, McKenna-Crook, and Ellington provide numerous illustrations, model letters to parents, work samples, rubrics, checklists, and example test questions to show you precisely how the nitty-gritty of theatre education plays out. In addition, each chapter contains suggested extension activities for students, Internet links to valuable resources and research materials, and experience-won hints on topics of specific interest to the new theatre teacher. How to Direct the High School Play Leon C. Miller, 1968-12 Summer Sessions Information and Class Schedules Bulletin University of Nebraska-Lincoln. Summer Sessions Office, 1925. Note 1973 77 editions formerly classified U0500T001 Colorado State College Bulletin Colorado State College (Fort Collins, Colo.), 1915 Theatre in the Classroom, Grades 6-12 Jim Patterson, 2016-07-14 This latest edition Theatre in the Classroom: Grades 6-12 equips prospective theatre teachers with key instructional methods and proven strategies for student learning. Building on the previous edition's strengths, Patterson extensively modified and updated the entire text, incorporating the most recent theatre standards by the National Coalition for Core Arts Standards. This indispensable guide, whose theoretical and philosophical underpinnings and practical classroom applications endow it with a lifetime of use, includes ideas for resource portfolios, checklists, rubrics, and other assessment tools. Of additional value are discussions concerning managing the classroom, linking school play production with classroom learning, and recognizing and responding to classroom diversity. Patterson details important considerations and resources for planning productions ranging from those available from professional organizations to those found within the community to those generated by students. He believes theatre learning must go beyond the study and performance of established play scripts and stresses the importance of productions written, directed, designed, and managed by students. End-of-chapter sections include Extension Activities, ways to help prospective teachers further explore the subject in the college-level methods course, Stay Connected websites for additional resource and research materials, and Professional Development suggestions for expanding personal and career
