Jihadism in Europe Farhad Khosrokhavar, 2021-05-18 European jihadism is a multi faceted social phenomenon It is not only linked to the extremist behaviour of a limited group but also to a broader crisis including the lack of a utopian vision and loss of meaning among the middle classes and the humiliation and denial of citizenship among disaffiliated young people in poor districts all over Western Europe In Jihadism in Europe Farhad Khosrokhavar explores how Jihadism is grounded in an unbridled and modern imagination in an uneasy relationship with social cultural and economic reality

Ummah Yet Proletariat Hongxuan Lin, 2023 Ummah Yet Proletariat explores how Islam and Marxism were both integral to Indonesian politics from the earliest days of the anticolonial movement to the imposition of the autocratic Soeharto regime in 1966 Lin Hongxuan demonstrates that many Indonesian Muslims adapted Marxist ideas while many Indonesian Marxists found ways to square their Islamic identity with their political commitments In doing so he upends the conventional state driven narrative that Islam and Marxism are mutually exclusive and argues that these confluences were the product of Indonesian participation in broader networks of intellectual exchange across Asia Europe and the Middle East

The House of Service David Tittensor, 2014-02-28 David Tittensor offers a groundbreaking new perspective on the G len movement a Turkish Muslim educational activist network that emerged in the 1960s and has grown into a global empire with an estimated worth of 25 billion Named after its leader Fethullah G len the movement has established more than 1 000 secular educational institutions in over 140 countries aiming to provide holistic education that incorporates both spirituality and the secular sciences Despite the movement s success little is known about how its schools are run or how Islam is operationalized Drawing on thirteen months of ethnographic fieldwork in Turkey Tittensor explores the movement s ideo theology and how it is practiced in the schools His interviews with both teachers and graduates from Africa Indonesia Central Asia and Turkey show that the movement is a missionary organization but of a singular kind its goal is not simply widespread religious conversion but a quest to recoup those Muslims who have apparently lost their way and to show non Muslims that Muslims can embrace modernity and integrate into the wider community Tittensor also examines the movement s operational side and shows how the schools represent an example of Mohammad Yunus s social business model a business with a social cause at its heart The House of Service is an insightful exploration of one of the world s largest transnational Muslim associations and will be invaluable for those seeking to understand how Islam will be perceived and practiced in the future

countries it seeks the purification of Islamic culture and religious renewal through a de militantization of the Islamic corpus This book examines Salafism in France and looks at how this movement spread from the Gulf to Western countries The Routledge Handbook of Gender in Central-Eastern Europe and Eurasia Katalin Fábíán, Janet Elise Johnson, Mara Lazda, 2021-07-25 This Handbook is the key reference for contemporary historical and political approaches to gender in Central Eastern Europe and Eurasia Leading scholars examine the region s highly diverse politics histories cultures ethnicities and religions and how these structures intersect with gender alongside class sexuality coloniality and racism Comprising 51 chapters the Handbook is divided into six thematic parts Part I Conceptual debates and methodological differences Part II Feminist and women s movements cooperating and colliding Part III Constructions of gender in different ideologies Part IV Lived experiences of individuals in different regimes Part V The ambiguous postcommunist transitions Part VI Postcommunist policy issues With a focus on defining debates the collection considers how the shared experiences especially communism affect political forces organization of gender through a broad variety of topics including feminisms ideology violence independence regime transition and public policy It is a foundational collection that will become invaluable to scholars and students across a range of disciplines including Women s Gender and Sexuality Studies and Central Eastern European and Eurasian Studies International Empirical Studies on Religion and Socioeconomic Human Rights Hans-Georg Ziebertz, 2020-03-06 Socioeconomic rights include rights with regard to social security labour and employment as well as cultural rights which may be regarded as a shield for the protection of human dignity especially of specific groups such as women children and refugees The enforceability of socioeconomic rights clearly distinguishes them from other rights These rights need perhaps more than others the support of civil society Because states have leeway in how resources are distributed civil society has a major impact on what resources are used to fulfil socio economic rights One of the actors in the public arena are religious traditions respective Churches Most of them have developed ethical standards for individual conduct and rules for living together in society based on their basic scriptures All three monotheistic religions Judaism Christianity and Islam are marked by a caring engagement for the poor the sick the old and the foreign From an empirical perspective the general research question of this volume is how young people understand and evaluate socioeconomic rights and to which degree religious convictions and practices are connected with attitudes towards these human rights Can religion be identified as a force supporting the human rights regime and which additional concepts strengthen or weaken the consent to these rights The richness of empirical data contributes to a better understanding how socioeconomic rights are legitimated in the opinion of more than 10 000 respondents in 14 countries One Islam, Many Muslim Worlds Raymond William Baker, 2015-08-03 By all measures the late twentieth century was a time of dramatic decline for the Islamic world the Ummah particularly its Arab heartland Sober Muslim voices regularly describe their current state as the worst in the 1 400 year history of Islam Yet precisely at this time of unprecedented material vulnerability Islam has emerged as a civilizational force strong enough to challenge the imposition of Western particularly American homogenizing power on Muslim peoples. This is the central paradox of Islam today at a time of such unprecedented weakness in one sense how has the Islamic Awakening a broad and diverse movement of contemporary Islamic renewal emerged as such a resilient and powerful transnational force and what implications does it have for the West. In One Islam Many Muslims Worlds Raymond W Baker addresses this question. Two things are clear Baker argues Islam's unexpected strength in recent decades does not originate from official political economic or religious institutions nor can it be explained by focusing exclusively on the often criminal assertions of violent marginal groups. While extremists monopolize the international press and the scholarly journals those who live and work in the Islamic world know that the vast majority of Muslims reject their reckless calls to violence and look elsewhere for guidance. Baker shows that extremists draw their energy and support not from contributions to the reinterpretation and revival of Islamic beliefs and practices but from the hatreds engendered by misguided Western policies in Islamic lands. His persuasive analysis of the Islamic world identifies centrists as the revitalizing force of Islam saying that they are responsible for constructing a modern cohesive Islamic identity that is a force to be reckoned with. Religion and identity Ryszard Michalak, 2023-09-04. The role of religious identity in social communities has gained importance in the past few years as many questions about individual and collective identity have been brought up in the fields of science and everyday life. Religion despite the process of secularisation remains an important component of human identity. Increasingly religion is also becoming an object of political influence. This volume argues that religion actually determinates various phenomena in the political sphere today. Rethinking Islam and Human Rights Ozcan Keles, 2023. In Rethinking Islam and Human Rights leading Islam and human rights scholar Ozcan Keles examines how social movement practice unknowingly and unintentionally produces Islamic knowledge on human rights i.e. change in both scriptural reinterpretation and societal disposition through a focus on the interaction between the two.
