Das Lied Von Bernadette. The Song of Bernadette (Translated by Ludwig Lewisohn.). Franz Werfel, Ludwig Lewisohn, 1950 Das Lied Von Bernadette; Roman Franz Werfel, 1941 Understanding Franz Werfel Hans Wagener, 1993 Describes the life work of the Austrian poet novelist who heralded the German Expressionist movement in 1911 wrote some of Europe's most widely read novels in the 1930s enjoyed popular success in the 1940s with the film adaptations of his best selling novels Franz Werfel: Bibliography of German Editions John M. Spalek, 2009-10-16 This volume is the first comprehensive bibliography of all Werfel publications in German language and thus a complete history of the publication of Werfel's works All works are arranged alphabetically by title followed by all other editions grouped by publisher Each bibliographical entry contains the edition's designation all the information from the title sheet a description of the volume the location and detailed explanatory notes The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE This book tells the story of German language literature on film beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture It explores analyzes and contextualizes the so called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s the impact of sound on adaptation practices the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts popular plays and even children's literature Not being restricted to German adaptations however this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions liberal economies and capitalist imperatives political agendas the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art Commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship Tempus Harald Weinrich, 2024-02-06 A foundational book by one of the most distinguished German humanists of the last half century Tempus joins cultural linguistics and literary interpretation at the hip Developing two controversial theses that sentences are not truly meaningful in isolation from their contexts and that verb tenses are primarily indicators not of time but of the attitude of the speaker or writer Tempus surveys a dazzling array of ancient and modern texts from famous authors as well as casual

speakers of German French Italian Spanish Portuguese Latin and English with a final chapter extending the observations to Greek Russian and world languages A classic in German and long available in many other languages Tempus launched a new discipline text linguistics and established a unique career that was marked by precise observation sensitive cultural outreach and practical engagement with the situation of migrants Weinrich's robust and lucid close readings of famous and little known authors from all the major languages of western Europe expand our literary horizons and challenge our linguistic understanding

Exile John M. Spalek, Robert F. Bell, 2020-05-01 This work is a collection of twenty four fundamental essays on the many sided topic of German exile literature during and after Hitler's Third Reich Exile literature which emerged in the 1980s as a special field of critical investigation within German Studies embraced the diverse works of writers who were scattered from Hollywood to Moscow but were related by the common bond of exile from Germany Leading American and European specialists in the field are contributors to the volume which discusses the work of Thomas Mann Bertolt Brecht Hermann Broch and Karl Wolfskehl among others

Franz Werfel: The Faith of an Exile Lionel Steiman, 2010-10-30 Franz Werfel was born in Prague in 1890 and died in Beverly Hills in 1945 a popular and artistic success in Europe and America Despite his Jewish birth and upbringing he was attracted to Christianity at any early age and although he never formally converted he celebrated his own vision of it in his entire life's work. The original of that peculiar faith and the response it engendered in Werfel's work as he lived through the horrific end of Jewish life in Europe are treated here. Werfel was not a systematic thinker and while his writing contains much that is philosophical and theological, his eclecticism and idiosyncrasy render any attempt to trace the specific origins of his thought or its relation to the work of contemporary philosophers and theologians highly problematic. Thus this work is neither biography nor intellectual history in the strict sense; it goes beyond melding the concerns of both genres into a thoughtful, comprehensive portrait of faith at work. Of interest to historians of the twentieth century as well as to students of that intriguing zone that lies between faith and art, but is neither or both.
