Contested Bodies Of Childhood And Youth:

Contested Bodies of Childhood and Youth K. Hörschelmann, R. Colls, 2009-10-21 Demonstrating the contested and differentiated nature of childhood and youth embodiment this book responds to political and media discourses that stigmatise unruly youthful bodies by combining the critical analysis of imagined and disciplined youthful bodies with a focus on young people's lived and performed embodied subjectivities Diverse Spaces of Childhood and Youth Ruth Evans, Louise Holt, 2016-04-08 Diverse Spaces of Childhood and Youth focuses on the diverse spaces and discourses of children and youth globally The chapters explore the influence of gender age and other socio cultural differences such as race ethnicity and migration trajectories on the everyday lives of children and youth in a range of international contexts These include the diverse urban environments of Istanbul Copenhagen Helsinki Toronto London and Bratislava and the contrasting rural settings of Ghana and England The analyses of children's young people's parents and professionals experiences and discourses provide critical insights into how gender and other socio cultural differences intersect The importance of everyday practices and performances in the formation of children's and young people's identities is revealed through for example friendships and everyday sociality mobilities and movements across space in both rural and urban environments The volume shows how discourses of childhood particularly those associated with risk intersect with difference The recognition of young people's agency and participation is central to many of the chapters whilst also raising methodological questions about how discourses of childhood and youth are researched Overall the book provides an original contribution to geographies of children youth and families and research on diversity and difference in global contexts This book was published as a special issue of Children's Geographies The SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies Susan Smith, 2010 With clarity and confidence this vibrant volume summons up the social in geography in ways that will excite students and scholars alike Here the social is populated not only by society but by culture nature economy and politics Kay Anderson University of Western Sydney This is a remarkable collection full of intellectual gems It not only summarises the field of social geography and restates its importance but also produces a manifesto for how the field should look in the future Nigel Thrift Vice Chancellor University of Warwick The book aims to be accessible to students and specialists alike Its success lies in emphasizing the crossovers between geography and social studies The good editorial work is evident and the participating contributors are well established scholars in their respective fields Miron M Denan Geography Research Forum An excellent handbook that will attract a diversity of readers It will inspire undergraduate postgraduate students and stimulate lecturers researchers interested in the complexity and diversity of the social realm As the first of its kind in the sub discipline it is a book that is enjoyable to read and will definitely add value to a personal or library collection Michele Lobo New Zealand Geographer The social relations of difference from race and class to gender and inequality are at the heart of the concept of social geography This handbook reconsiders and redirects research in the discipline while examining the changing ideas of individuals and their relationship with structures of power Organised into five sections the SAGE Handbook of Social Geographies maps out the connections anchored in social geography Difference and Diversity builds on enduring ideas of the structuring of social relations and examines the ruptures and rifts and continuities and connections around social divisions Geographies and Social Economies rethinks the sociality subjectivity and placement of money markets price and value Geographies of Wellbeing builds from a foundation of work on the spaces of fear anxiety and disease towards newer concerns with geographies of health resilience and contentment Geographies of Social Justice connects ideas through an examination of the possibilities and practicalities of normative theory and frames the central notion of Social geography that things always could and should be different Doing Social Geography is not exploring the how to of research but rather the entanglement of it with practicalities moralities and politics This will be an essential resource for academics researchers practitioners and postgraduates across human geography

Children Living in Sustainable Built Environments Pia Christensen, Sophie Hadfield-Hill, John Horton, Peter Kraftl, 2017-12-06 Urban living has dramatically changed over the past generation refashioning children s relationships with the towns and cities in which they live and the modes of living within them Focusing on the global shift in urban planning towards sustainable urbanism from master planned sustainable communities to the green retrofitting of existing urban environments Children Living in Sustainable Built Environments offers a critical analysis of the challenges tensions and opportunities for children and young people living in these environments Drawing upon original data Children Living in Sustainable Built Environments demonstrates how the needs interests and participation of children and young people often remain inferior to the design planning and local politics of new urban communities Considering children from their crucial role as residents engaging and contributing to the vitalities of their community to their role as consumers using and understanding sustainable design features the book critically discusses the prospects of future inclusion of children and young people as a social group in sustainable urbanism Truly interdisciplinary Children Living in Sustainable Built Environments forms an original theoretical and empirical contribution to the understanding of the everyday lives of children and young people and will appeal to academics and students in the fields of education childhood studies sociology anthropology human geography and urban studies as well as policy makers architects urban planners and other professionals working on sustainable urban designs

The Space and Power of Young People's Social Relationships Louise Holt, 2024-03-14 The book examines the power of young people s social relationships in schools to transform or more often to continue differences that pervade societies mind body emotional differences or Special Educational Needs and Disability gender poverty race ethnicity sexuality and their intersections The book details extensive qualitative research with young people foregrounding their accounts In challenging educators and others to engage with young people's own agencies and to make space for their socialities the concepts of embodied social and emotional capital and young people as contextual bodies subjectivities agencies are developed emphasising both young people's agencies and how these are socio spatially situated constrained and enabled The book is most concerned with how and when young people challenge and change enduring differences The concept of immersive geographies outlines the potential of change inherent in the repeated coming together of the same people in space doing similar things that are however always provisional and always with the potential to be done differently Examples of when difference is transformed are presented The book marks a major interdisciplinary contribution to geographies and social studies of children youth and education child development social work social policy and education studies Furthermore it is of appeal to anyone interested in young people social reproduction and sociality from educators policy makers youth workers and social workers to parents

Children, Young People and Critical Geopolitics Matthew C. Benwell, Peter Hopkins, 2017-05-15 Young people and in particular children have typically been marginalised in geopolitical research positioned as too young to understand or relate to the adult dominated world of international relations Integrating current debates in critical geopolitics and political geography with research in children's geographies childhood studies and youth research this book sets out an agenda for the field of children's and young people's critical geopolitics It considers diverse practices such as play activism media consumption and diplomacy to show how children's and young people's lives relate to wider regional and global geopolitical processes Engaging with contemporary concepts in human geography including ludic geopolitics affect emotional geographies intergenerationality creative diplomacy popular geopolitics and citizenship the authors draw on geopolitical research with children and young people from Europe Asia Australasia Africa and the Americas The chapters highlight the ways in which young people can be enrolled ignored dismissed empowered and represented by the state for geopolitical ends Notwithstanding this state power the research presented also shows how young people have agency and make decisions about their lives which are influenced by wider geopolitical processes The focus on the lives of children and young people problematises and extends what it is we think of when considering the geopolitical which enriches as well as advances critical geopolitical enquiry and deserves to be taken seriously by political geographies more broadly
