Moving Beyond Symbol and Myth Anne Moore, 2009 For hundreds of years scholars have debated the meaning of Jesus' central theological term the kingdom of God Most of the argument has focused on its assumed eschatological connotations and Jesus' adherence or deviation from these ideas Within the North American context the debate is dominated by the work of Norman Perrin whose classification of the kingdom of God as a myth evoking symbol remains one of the fundamental assumptions of scholarship According to Perrin Jesus' understanding of the kingdom of God is founded upon the myth of God acting as king on behalf of Israel as described in the Hebrew Bible Moving Beyond Symbol and Myth challenges Perrin's classification and advocates the reclassification of the kingdom of God as metaphor Drawing upon insights from the cognitive theory of metaphor this study examines all the occurrences of the God is king metaphor within the literary context of the Hebrew Bible Based on this review it is proposed that the God is king metaphor functions as a true metaphor with a range of expressions and meanings It is employed within a variety of texts and conveys images of God as the covenantal sovereign of Israel God as the eternal suzerain of the world and God as the king of the disadvantaged The interaction of the semantic fields of divinity and human kingship evoke a range of metaphoric expressions that are utilized throughout the history of the Hebrew Bible in response to differing socio-historical contexts and within a range of rhetorical strategies It is this diversity inherent in the God is king metaphor that is the foundation for the diversified expressions of the kingdom of God associated with the historical Jesus and early Christianity
