Studies of Classroom Interaction in European Countries Ina ter Avest, Dan-Paul Jozsa, Thorsten Knauth, Javier Rosón, Geir Skeie, 2009 Regarding teaching about religions and worldviews there is a gap between the ambitions of educational policies and our knowledge about what really happens in the classroom Research on classroom interaction about religion is not very far developed either nationally or as international and as comparative research There is a growing awareness however that research on pupils perspectives on religion in education is needed in order to develop sustainable approaches for future education and this book is a contribution to this research The classroom can be seen as an arena both for learning and for micro politics This arena is shaped and sometimes challenged and restricted or even curtailed by the wider societal and political context In this book we present studies of classroom interaction that focus on the micro sociological level of research The studies presented open up a rather unexplored field of international comparative research on religion in education and the role of diversity for classroom interaction giving deeper insights into what happens in classrooms displaying varieties of interactive patterns and relating these to their specific contexts Spiritual and Religious Education Mal Leicester, Sohan Modgil, 2005-07-15

Volume V distinguishes religious and spiritual education and takes a multi faith approach to pedagogic curricular and resource issues The important area of collective worship is also addressed State Support for Religious Education

, 2007 Aimed at those interested in the vital relationship between international human rights law and domestic policy This work provides a set of source documents concerning the legal and political history of religious education in a multicultural environment and especially in Ontario Canada s largest province Whose America? Jonathan Zimmerman, 2005-11-30

What do America s children learn about American history American values and human decency Who decides In this absorbing book Jonathan Zimmerman tells the dramatic story of conflict compromise and more conflict over the teaching of history and morality in twentieth century America In history whose stories are told and how As Zimmerman reveals multiculturalism began long ago Starting in the 1920s various immigrant groups the Irish the Germans the Italians even the newly arrived Eastern European Jews urged school systems and textbook publishers to include their stories in the teaching of American history The civil rights movement of the 1960s and 70s brought similar criticism of the white version of American history and in the end textbooks and curricula have offered a more inclusive account of American progress in freedom and justice But moral and religious education Zimmerman argues will remain on much thornier ground In battles over school prayer or sex education each side argues from such deeply held beliefs that they rarely understand one another s reasoning let alone find a middle ground for compromise Here there have been no resolutions to calm the teaching of history All the same Zimmerman argues the strong American tradition of pluralism has softened the edges of the most rigorous moral and religious absolutism Religious Education Research through a Community of Practice. Action Research and the Interpretive Approach Julia Ipgrave, Robert Jackson, Kevin O'Grady, 2009 This book brings together a group of teachers and teacher educators who have researched their own students learning in schools and universities as part of the EC funded REDCo Project Combining the methods of action and practitioner research with the key concepts of Robert Jackson s interpretive approach the book illustrates the collaborative research of a group of professionals working together as a community of practice Part one sets out the key ideas of the interpretive approach and action research Part two reports case studies from individual researchers projects carried out in diverse though related settings different schools teacher education and local authority teacher training Part three traces the ideas of the interpretive approach action research and community of practice across the individual studies Part four connects the research with wider themes and findings from the European Commission REDCo Project on religion education dialogue and conflict The book is highly relevant to the work of teachers and teacher trainers in the field of religions and education to researchers in this field and to all interested in action research practitioner research and communities of practice
