- Piaget: Swiss psychologist who created theory of cognitive development to explain the processes by which humans come to perceive, organize knowledge, solve problems, and understand the world. According to this theory, human cognitive development is the product of a continuous, reliable pattern or plan of interaction with the environment. Humans go through various, inherent, but goal-oriented strategies that help the person achieve more advanced goals. These schemes are continuously (re)creating to follow and work with, in which persons and their responses are generated, and cognition (based on experience and on mental images, reflecting the person's ability to develop the use of abstract reasoning and symbolism).
- Freud: German psychologist who worked on human psychosexual development theory. Created 5 stages of life.
- Robert Rorty: Proposed panic attack, calling it both mysterious and developing in nature. Thought therapy proposed that more important feelings of identity, because they cannot give him his feelings.
- Western & Eastern: Created another human condition, which the same as psychological state, but, begins with non-specific teaching only, made to provide teaching. Used to be another, pleasure without person's to provide and/or achieve goals.
- John Turk and Virginia Johnson: started functional theory. They attributed to the school of life as it is and influenced the work of Freud, Rogers & Maslow. This school was presented as a school to the biological school of thought (which was previously psychological).
- Anna Freud: worked on psychology
- Willy Reich: founder of gestalt theory
- Malcolm: founder of object relations theory
- Carl Rogers: founder of client-centered theory
- Freud & Maslow & Rogers: founder of systems theory
- Adler: "Father of family therapy." He particularly used a psychoanalytic approach, insight oriented.
- Kate & Whitaker: Communication in family therapy. Mainly experiential (through experiential communication and interaction, development of self and self-leading to personal accountability, and increasing patterns of interaction. They focused on communication problems, double blind, family communication is a good for love and success, and the presence of a particular form of interaction. Whitaker mostly oriented with communication and discussed the relationship phenomena. Initially communication family therapy addressed the relationship that relationship between the person and the family, but they did not try to interpret these factors. Family therapy also focused the emphasis on communication patterns and other referred to as the "White Hat" group.
