Tactics Training Alexander Alekhine Frank Erwich, Casper Schoppen, 2018-06-20 Alexander Alekhine 1892-1946 was the 4th World Champion in the history of chess In 1927 he defeated Jose Raul Capablanca in a World Championship Match by 18 5 15 5 the winner was the first to win six games Apart from a short intermission in 1935-37 he lost his world title to the Dutchman Max Euwe Alekhine held his title until his death in 1946 Alekhine was one of the greatest attacking players and for mere mortals it seemed he could produce combinations out of nowhere The man of the complex combinations was known for his dynamic play and produced many beautiful games Alekhine was quite clear about his tactical skills I have had to work long and hard to eradicate the dangerous delusion that in a bad position I could always or nearly always conjure up some unexpected combination to extricate me from my difficulties Even in this age of computer chess many of his ideas are still alive Besides being a tactical genius Alekhine showed wonderful opening preparation incredible imagination and positional understanding Do you want to adopt Alekhine like thought processes in your own games In this tactics training book you will get the opportunity to play the same good moves as the former World Champion did This book offers you one hundred training exercises in which Alekhine turned the game in his favour The puzzles start at a moderate level and gradually get more difficult Are you up for the challenge

Chess Training for Candidate Masters Alexander Kalinin, 2017-05-09 Today's young players have benefited greatly from working with chess computers There is little doubt that advanced software and electronic training programs have significantly contributed to the rise of the overall standard of play But there is a downside as well Many young chess players see the computer as the ultimate answer to nearly everything They think that computer analysis is the best and fastest way to find the truth in any position on the board Inevitably those players have gradually stopped thinking and analysing for themselves The prominent Russian chess trainer Alexander Kalinin argues that what you need to make real progress is not more computer input but increased understanding To fully digest all available data and to discover the ultimate secrets of chess you must dislodge your decision making from your addiction to the computer and redevelop the habit of using your own brain Kalinin helps players seeking the master title by showing how concrete knowledge leads to improved decisions at the board He stresses the essence of the classics and the importance of human interaction in reaching analytical mastery Kalinin provides a wealth of training material The vast majority of his examples has never been published before He reveals the mistakes he himself made as a candidate master and mostly uses games of players who themselves are on the road to chess mastery
